REPLY OF ALLIES IS PRESENTED TO-DAY TO GERMAN DELEGATION

Handed Over by Dutasta at Versailles; Germany's Admission Into the League of Nations Is Fixed "For the Near Future" by the Allies

Paris, June 16.—(Associated Press).—The reply of the Allies to the German counter-proposals will be delivered to Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, head of the enemy peace delegation, at Versailles at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Paul Dutasta, Secretary of the Peace Conference, will take the revised treaty personally to Versailles to hand it to the Germans.

It is presumed that the Germans will depart for Weimar immediately upon the receipt of the Allies' reply.

Paris, June 16.—(Associated Press).—Germany's admission to the League of Nations is fixed for "the near future." Her admission will enable Germany to bring up for discussion her economic propositions.

Germany will be given four months to submit to the Allies' proposals dealing with her total indebtedness through reparations and methods for the payment thereof. She may propose merchandise and labor. The merchants are to reply within two months.

Paris, June 16.—(Associated Press). The Allies have promised Germany to deliver within one month a list of persons whom they intend to try for the responsibility for the war and violations of the laws of war.

Berlin Opinion Saturday.
London, June 16.—An Associated Press dispatch from Berlin received here yesterday said that a canvass of official quarters in Berlin Saturday evening had addressed the positive statement that unless the revised proposals of the Entente nations should contain most radical modifications, Germany would not sign the peace treaty.

The Government, however, so far as it still was represented in Berlin, was not indulging in the luxury of undue illusions as to what the next forty-eight hours would bring forth. Alleged modifications in the draft of the treaty as reported to Berlin were rejected as wholly insufficient to warrant the prediction that the Government would be inclined to subject them to closer scrutiny. Emphasis also was placed on the statement that the Cabinet was absolutely united in its attitude and that there was no prospect of any division which might break up the present Government.

RED SHIELD DRIVE BEGAN HERE TO-DAY

Active Campaign to Reach Objective of $20,000 in City

The Red Shield Drive to raise $20,000 in Victoria for the Salvation Army began in earnest this morning, and the members of the committee in charge of the affair were on hand at an early hour this morning, and the members of the committee in charge of the affair were on hand at an early hour at the headquarters in the former Northern Crown Bank premises, corner of Government Street and Yates Street to receive contributions and direct the canvass.

The campaign will last throughout the present week, and the personnel of the committee in charge of the drive promises well for its success. A guarantee is given that the funds collected are to be used solely for the purpose of carrying on the future work of the Salvation Army. All those who are anxious to assist in the campaign can get in touch with the committee by calling at the headquarters or phoning No. 29,099.

BOLSHEVIKI ABOUT TO LEAVE PETROGRAD

Active Preparations for Evacuation Being Made, Says Bolshevik Dispatch

London, June 16.—Active preparations are being made for the evacuation of Petrograd, it is announced in a Bolshevik wireless dispatch from Moscow received here to-day.

Stockholm, June 16.—White Guards have captured the important fort of Krasnayaorka, across the Bay of Kronstadt from the fortress of Kronstadt, the chief seaward defence of Petrograd, according to an official statement issued from Estonian headquarters. It is said that the White Guards won their success after the garrison of the fort had refused to fight against the Bolsheviks.

FIVE LOST LIVES.
Newmarket, Ont., June 14.—The death toll of the explosion in the boiler room at the C. & N. factory here Thursday now numbers five, and it is expected that others will succumb. John Booth and Alex McTavish have died from injuries in the explosion.

INTERNATIONAL OFFICERS ORDER STRIKING PRINTERS IN VANCOUVER TO RESUME WORK

Vancouver, June 16.—The International Typographical Union executive has ordered the Vancouver printers now on strike to return to work.

The entire printing staff of The Vancouver Sun walked out Friday night last, refusing to set up an editorial which they considered a reflection on the motives of the Strike Committee here. The Sun has not published for three days as a consequence.

The Vancouver Province ceased publication after noon to-day. The printers employed by The Province refused this morning to set up an advertisement in which the Citizens' Committee and the Great War Veterans commented on the Vancouver strike. The publishers of The Province informed their printers that the newspaper would cease publication rather than concede the claim of the men to dictate the character of the matter appearing in its columns. The printers then met and decided to walk out in protest.

Marshal Foch and His Assistants Have Their Plans Ready

Paris, June 16.—Marshal Foch and other military leaders of the Allies attended the meeting of the Council of Five to-day. The meeting developed into a general wind-up of the German situation.

Paris, June 16.—(Associated Press). The newspapers here are giving much space to the military preparations of the British, French, American and Belgians along the Rhine and are speculating as to the distance the Allies must advance before the Germans yield, should their first answer on the treaty be in the negative.

MAYOR OF WINNIPEG HINTS SETTLEMENT OF THE STRIKE THERE IS EXPECTED SOON

Winnipeg, June 16.—"Daylight is in sight," said Mayor Gray last night, coming from a conference with Senator Gideon D. Robertson, Minister of Labor. He would not say anything more but he let it be understood that his statement was in reference to a settlement of the dispute in the metal trades, the original cause of the strike.

Mayor Gray also stated that the street cars soon would be running again. Major Lyle, of the special police force, had as visitors during the evening at the City Hall James Winnipeg and R. B. Russell, two of the inner circle of the Strike Committee. Nothing, however, would be disclosed as to the nature of the interview.

Statement by Employers.
Winnipeg, June 16.—In a lengthy statement to the public, the Winnipeg metal trades employers to-day outlined their policy on the question of collective bargaining, which is endorsed by the mediation committee of the railroad brotherhood officials as "being in principle and effect the same as that employed by the railroad organizations."

Senator Robertson, after reading the declaration by the companies, said: "The policy outlined is a full and complete recognition of collective bargaining as generally interpreted and applied, and is entirely in accordance with the established practice on our Canadian railways. In my opinion it should be accepted as satisfactory to labor."

The declared policy of the metal trades employers on collective bargaining in part is as follows: 1. Employees shall not be discriminated against by employers or other employees on account of membership or non-membership in any trades organization.

Negotiations.
The members of the various trades organizations employed in the undersigned metal trades shops shall have the right to present and negotiate schedules covering wages, hours and working conditions with individual employers or collectively with the employers of the metal trades.

2. The employees who are members of the various metal trades organizations in the contract shops (not including railway shops) shall have the right to elect representatives from among the employees of the firm or firms involved.

4. After agreements have been reached and schedules signed as by the above-mentioned method, grievance service in Vancouver is fast approaching normal again, except on two long-distance lines. No attempt has been made to interfere with the telephone workers who remained on the job and telephone equipment has not been touched by the strike sympathizers who are indulging in picketing around the exchanges.

Telephone.
Several of the telephone operators who struck returned to their switchboards this morning. The telephone service in Vancouver is fast approaching normal again, except on two long-distance lines. No attempt has been made to interfere with the telephone workers who remained on the job and telephone equipment has not been touched by the strike sympathizers who are indulging in picketing around the exchanges.

Strike Denounced.
The Citizens' League distributed 10,000 copies of its first bulletin leaflet this morning, in which the strike is denounced as being an attempted revolution.

Canadian Soldiers at Witley Destroy Shops and Theatre

London, June 16.—Late on Saturday night a demonstration took place at Witley Camp, where Canadian soldiers gathered at a mass meeting against the delay in their repatriation. A dozen shops, the Garrison Theatre and army huts were burned.

London, June 16.—(Associated Press). The newspapers here are giving much space to the military preparations of the British, French, American and Belgians along the Rhine and are speculating as to the distance the Allies must advance before the Germans yield, should their first answer on the treaty be in the negative.

THIRTY FEET FROM SURFACE OF OCEAN

Alcock's Vickers-Vimy Aeroplane Was That Near Water Once

London, June 16.—When the Vickers Vimy biplane driven by Captain Alcock was sighted crossing the Irish coast, says a dispatch to The Daily Mail from Clifden, Galway, an aeroplane flew out to render assistance. This machine landed near the Vickers Vimy but unfortunately was wrecked owing to the softness of the ground.

When the Vickers Vimy machine landed, Lieut. Arthur W. Brown, the navigator, said to Captain Alcock: "What do you think that for fancy navigating?" and the pilot of the machine responded: "Very good." The two men, who had just completed an epoch-making voyage, then shook hands.

Brown Was Hurt.
Lieut. Brown was slightly injured on the nose and mouth by the jolt given the aviators when the machine struck the ground. Both men were deaf and dazed and were unable to walk steadily for some minutes. They quickly recovered, however, and were escorted to the nearby wireless station. They distributed cigarettes as souvenirs, and gave away the small dog and cat which were mascots during the trip. The engine compartment was rained upon by the downpour during the journey.

Describing the trip, the aviators said they had a very trying ordeal, Captain Alcock saying that the sun came out only once when the biplane had attained a height of 11,000 feet. Only three astronomical observations were possible during the voyage. The altitude of the machine varied from a few feet from the water up to 13,000 feet.

Transportation Men in French Capital Resume Work; Settlement in Italy

Paris, June 16.—The transportation strikers met yesterday and formally accepted the conditions for ending the strike. In a resolution they called the strike "an appreciable union victory."

London, June 16.—A wireless dispatch received here from Rome says the general strike has been ended throughout Italy.

At Liverpool.
London, June 16.—(Reuter's).—Owing to the strike of flatmen in Liverpool great difficulty is being experienced in coaling Atlantic liners. The sailings of the Baltic, Belgic and Vedic, of the White Star Line, and the Scotia, of the Canadian Pacific Ocean Services, have been indefinitely postponed. The shipowners' offers of arbitration have been refused.

A dispatch from Liverpool on Saturday night said the strike of ship stewards there had been settled and that steamships held up would sail immediately.

LIEUT.-COL. LATTA GOES TO THE BOARD

Provincial Government Appoints Soldier For Land Settlement Duties

Lieut.-Col. W. S. Latta, D.S.O., two bars, has been appointed a director of the Provincial Land Settlement Board, according to a statement given to The Times representative to-day by the Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture.

Colonel Latta has been particularly active since returning from the front in January in Soldier settlement affairs and was present at various conferences with the Minister and M. H. Nelsens, Chairman of the Land Settlement Board. He also made trips through the interior, examining lands for settlement. On Saturday last he returned from an inspection of the organized settlement at Courtenay, where 120 returned men are clearing land and establishing homes.

The new director comes to his work with a thorough knowledge of the needs of returned soldiers and with first-hand information of farming in British Columbia. He was born in Scotland in 1879 and came to this province when eleven years of age, settling in Vancouver in 1890. He later lived in the Fraser Valley and learned farming in the Chilliwack district, also at Fort Kells and in Surrey. In 1906 he moved to Vancouver and engaged in the wholesale grocery business. Later he was connected with the shipping business.

STRIKES IN PARIS AND ITALY ENDED

Captain John Alcock and Lieut. Arthur Brown Performed Most Outstanding Feat in History of Aviation; Traveled From Newfoundland to Ireland

London, June 16.—Completing in sixteen hours and twelve minutes the first non-stop aeroplane flight across the Atlantic, from St. Johns, Newfoundland, to Ireland, Captain John Alcock and Lieut. Arthur Brown landed in their Vickers Vimy biplane at Clifden, Galway, Ireland, yesterday morning at 9.40 o'clock, British summer time. In taking the ground, the machine struck heavily and the fuselage ploughed itself into the sand. Neither of the occupants was injured.

The historic flight covered a distance of more than 1,900 miles and was without accident. The tale is one of an adventurous and amazingly hazardous enterprise, however. Fog and mists hung over the North Atlantic, and the Vickers Vimy biplane climbed and dived, struggling to extricate herself from the folds of the aeroplane's worst enemies.

She rose 13,000 feet and swooped down almost to the surface of the sea and at times the two navigators found themselves flying upside down only ten feet above the water.

Before coming to earth near the Clifden wireless station, Capt. Alcock circled the wireless aerial, seeking the best spot to reach the earth. But no suitable ground was found, so he changed it in a bog. The wireless staff rushed to the assistance of the aviators. They found Brown dazed and Alcock temporarily deafened by the force of the impact. As soon as they were able to be escorted to the wireless station, they telegraphed the news to their friends. Then they had breakfast.

The Best Way.
"That is the best way to cross the Atlantic," said Lieut. Brown, after he had eaten. Captain Alcock explained the silence of his radio instrument during the trip by saying that the wireless propeller blew off soon after the machine had left Newfoundland.

"We were much jammed by strong wireless signals not intended for us," he added. Dream Came True.

RED RAG TO A BULL

How many people know the real meaning of the phrase "Like red rag to a bull?"

Why should a bull, or any other creature, be enraged when a piece of scarlet cloth is flaunted before them? For bulls are not alone in this. Sheep, usually so meek and gentle, will apparently become transported with rage if they see anything of this color. Geese and turkeys are similarly affected—the former even having been known to attack a scarlet-clad child. The excitement animals display in such circumstances is similar to that caused by the smell of blood. Here is the theory: The color reminds the animals of blood, an association which invariably suggests bodily discomfort and hurt. So they express their terror by the only means they possess—Tit-Bits.

When making pastry with dripping melt it slightly and beat to a cream before adding to the flour. The pastry will then be as light as if made with butter. Lard should be treated in similar fashion.

HADN'T ENJOYED GOOD HEALTH IN FOUR LONG YEARS

Mrs. Emily Stubbs Says She Was Not Sick Exactly, But Just Run-down; Tanlac Builds Her Up

"Really, it has become a habit for me to recommend Tanlac, because it has built me up and helped me so much," said Mrs. Emily Stubbs, residing at 2666 14th Avenue, West, Vancouver, while discussing the medicine at the Owl Drug Store, recently.

"I had not enjoyed very good health for four years," she continued, "and at the time I began taking Tanlac I was in such a badly run-down condition it was a burden for me to move around or prepare the meals for my family. My appetite was so poor that I could hardly stand the sight of food, and I scarcely ate enough to keep soul and body together. I couldn't even relish my tea, and I felt so worn-out and listless that I seldom went anywhere. Just bending over to lace my shoes was hard work for me and my nerves were getting all upset, too, for the least noise or excitement would grate on me terribly. I was not sick exactly, but was in just that condition that keeps one feeling tired and worn-out all the time and unfit for anything."

"But Tanlac soon changed things about for me. I had not taken more than two bottles until I noticed a very decided improvement. So I kept right on with the treatment until now I have taken seven bottles and have not only gained several pounds in weight, but I don't think I have ever in all my life felt more energetic. My appetite is so good that I never seem to be able to eat enough to satisfy me, and I am getting the full benefit of all my food. My nervousness is all gone, and now I sleep splendidly every night, and feel fine all the time. I never let a chance to recommend Tanlac go by because I know from the way it has helped me it will help others."

Tanlac is sold in Victoria by D. E. Campbell, corner Fort and Douglas—Adv't.

DETAILS OF REPLY GERMANS MADE TO TERMS LAD DOWN BY ALLIES MADE PUBLIC

Text of Teutons' Counter-Proposals Published Yesterday in Paris; Protests Made Against All Provisions Set Forth by Allies

Ottawa, June 16.—The following summary of the text of the German reply to the peace treaty was received here yesterday afternoon by the Government and issued to the Canadian Press, Ltd.:

Paris, June 15.—The German reply and counter-proposals to the conditions of peace laid down to them at Versailles on May 7 were made public here to-day.

The reply covers 119 pages and includes a covering letter by Brockdorff-Rantzau of May 23, which has already been published, and a second section of comments following the main outline of the original draft treaty. Two separate documents on legal and financial questions are included as part of the general reply. Both English and French translations have been furnished in pamphlet form, the former totalling about 60,000 words.

The Germans maintain that the Allied and Associated Powers have forsaken the peace of justice to which they solemnly pledged themselves in the armistice negotiations and conclude that peace of might in which all the principles quoted at length from speeches of the statesmen of Allied and Associated Powers have been violated.

They protest against the proposed terms individually and collectively, demand a return to the original agreements, press for verbal negotiations, and state that Germany expects justice on a basis of equality and reciprocity.

The reply begins with a detailed analysis of the legal basis of peace, alleges a flagrant series of contradictions to this basis, and points out that the results would be the complete enslavement of the German people and the betrayal of all the world's cherished hopes of peace.

League of Nations.
 In the counter-proposals Germany demands immediate admission to the League of Nations as part of the spirit of the armistice agreement and as necessary for the acceptance of the proposed military, naval and air terms.

The Germans then analyze the territorial changes demanded, claiming that the right of self-determination has been wilfully violated throughout. They bitterly assail the abolition of all German rights outside Europe as incompatible with the preliminary negotiations and as wholly impossible to a great people, who not only have supreme needs for markets and supplies, but who have shown themselves capable of sharing the world's task of civilization.

Reparations.
 Germany is declared to be wholly unable to accept the Reparations Commission set forth by the Allies, as being an infringement of her sovereignty, but proposes a co-operative German Commission to work alongside it. She accepts responsibility only for civilian losses in occupied Belgium and France, and agrees to maximum payments of 100,000,000 marks, provided the other terms as to colonies, overseas trade and territories are accepted as she proposes. As to deliveries of ships, raw materials and machinery, it is said she can meet the Allies' claims only in part, largely because of decreased production.

The Germans demand that in the economic provision, Germany be treated on a basis of equality and reciprocity and not in the one-sided way now in vogue. They agree to freedom of traffic on German rivers and within Germany, but always on condition that there be no interference with German sovereignty. Similarly, with the original of treaties imposed through the war, the Germans expect reciprocal treatment rather than the assumption by the Allies of the right to say what engagements are or are not to become operative again.

Trial of Ex-Kaiser.
 The Germans refuse to accept the trial of the ex-Kaiser or to sanction his extradition from Holland, on the ground that no German subject can be brought before a foreign court without established law or legal basis. Similarly the Germans say they can not agree to extradition of other subjects accused of violations of the law and customs of war. Instead they propose an international court of neutrals to judge the fact of crime, the punishment to remain with the national courts.

The labor clauses are not satisfactory to the Germans, and as a result they propose a conference to examine the proposals of the Allied and Associated Powers, the German proposals and the Bernese resolutions.

Occupation.
 A bitter protest is entered against the occupation of the Rhine provinces, and the demand is made that all Allied troops be withdrawn within six months of peace. It is declared that the occupation as proposed would break up German economic life and allow the prejudicing of German interests in favor of France and Belgium.

The summary herewith makes no attempt to criticize any statements of fact or figures made in reply. The German delegation alone is responsible for them, but it may be stated that many of them, especially as to the eastern frontier, are disputable, if not absolutely incorrect, and that facts bearing in the opposite direction have been omitted.

PUPILS NOW CONTROL BOLSHEVIK SCHOOLS

Unpopular Masters Are Rejected by Classes Under Lenine Regime.

London, June 16.—The pupils instead of the teachers control the schools of Russia under the Bolsheviki regime, according to two Englishmen, one of them an experienced schoolmaster, who have returned from Russia.

Boys and girls are herded indiscriminately and there is no discipline, say the Britishers. Pupils control the teachers. In a Kolma school a youth of eighteen was appointed commissioner of the institution and was in charge of all the teachers. One one occasion he closed the school for a week as a protest against the action of the master who had reprimanded a pupil.

Should a master prove unpopular, he is promptly ejected by his class. Often the master appears for class only to find his pupils engaged in a committee meeting which must not be disturbed. Each class has its own committee and usually the most popular boy represents the others at the masters' council. These committees not only direct the masters but control the distribution of food, which is provided for the midday meal and which is the chief cause for any school attendance at all.

As They Please.

The pupils do exactly as they please, walking into the classroom and leaving it when a lesson is in progress. This is particularly true as regards lunch time, for the first to reach the dining-room is the first to be served and he usually gets the best. No punishment of any kind is inflicted on the pupils as each pupil is his own mentor as of right and wrong.

No homework is set, the pupil doing all his school work during the hours set apart for each session. Attendance is not compulsory, or even regulated by rule, each one attending classes or staying away as he sees fit. No marks for good work are allowed, and consequently none for the sluggard who makes no attempt at scholastic attainment.

The same chaotic conditions were observed by the Britishers in the universities and other seats of higher education. Any boy of sixteen may enter without qualification. Even though he

INAUGURATES DRIVE WITH GATHERING AT ROYAL VICTORIA

Speakers Hear Appeals For Red Shield Fund Campaign

ADJUTANT TUTTE ON ARMY'S WORK

From the beginning the Salvation Army has been constructing and reconstructing—broken humanity. That was its first object, it is the first object of its existence to-day.

This paragraph occurred in the appeal of Adjutant H. C. Tutte, who has charge of the Salvation Army drive for $20,000 in Victoria, at the inaugural meeting at the Royal Victoria Theatre last evening.

The adjutant delivered a stirring appeal on behalf of the objects of the organization. He spoke in place of Brigadier General R. P. Clark, D.S.O., C.M.G., who wrote, heartily endorsing the campaign and praising the work of the Salvation Army at the front.

Testimony to Army. A. C. Plummerfelt, chairman of the local committee, who presided, made a strong appeal for funds, and mentioned the fact that the Salvation Army, started by General Booth in 1865, had for over fifty years been proving its value as a social agency for the uplift of humanity.

There were 1,500,000 members of the organization, he said, and another 1,500,000 adherents. The Army operates in sixty-five different countries and its officers speak fifty different languages. He referred to the $20,000 to be raised in Victoria as "modest," and said it meant only forty cents per head of the city's population.

Frank Glogin, M.P.P., expressed a very high opinion of the Army's work. He considered that Victoria should give at least $40,000. In fact it had been asked to contribute only $20,000 to such a noble cause, he remarked.

Col. Foster's Opinion. A letter from Lieut.-Col. W. W. Foster, D.S.O., expressed great disappointment at having to leave on Friday for Ottawa on official business.

"It is a great disappointment to me that having to leave for Ottawa I shall be unable to participate in the effort to obtain funds for the Salvation Army project in Victoria," he said. "I do so not only because one feels that the object, which will be of such benefit to many returned men—is worthy of every support, but the work of the Salvation Army overseas was so outstanding in character, personally I know of no organization which so unreservedly placed its resources of every character at the disposal of the soldier in the field; and the wholehearted service rendered by the Salvation Army in the field can never be forgotten."

"I sincerely trust the Red Shield Campaign will meet with complete success, as the same agency we appreciate, so much overseas can be used with such splendid effect during the present period of reconstruction."

Adjutant Tutte Speaks. In his speech in support of the appeal Adjutant H. Charles Tutte, after speaking of the philanthropic and reclamation work of the Army, said: "It is a poor organization which only contains that spirit in its original leaders, but fails to generate it in the hearts and reproduce it in the actions of every member, however humble or limited in ability."

Adjutant Tutte quoted instances of actual work at the front in which the Salvation Army has shown its characteristic zeal, and said:

"In other words the Salvation Army has been toiling on the upward trend for more than half a century doing just what it did in France, all in the same spirit and manner, but you did not happen to hear of it or if you did you saw no beauty in it. You had not got the vision of the greatness of this work, it has not impressed you as monumental, not because of its lack of grandeur, but because of the lack of vision of the world, but thank God we discovered."

"We appreciate the praise and the splendid commendations of all the high authorities, including the King, who has ever had a warm place in his heart for the Army. President Wilson, Sir D. Haig and so many others, but the praise of the returned boys we value most of all. They know real people when they see them, and could anything be more unqualified and spontaneous than the way in which the boys have spoken of the work we have done? If this was a congregation of returned men and as well as I have no doubt you are, and I asked here for the objective I am sure would get the whole sum easily."

"Shall we fall in getting our quota in Victoria is $20,000 too much for this city? Have you ever been faced with a more heart-searching appeal I appeal to the innermost feelings of your souls. I step boldly into that sanctum of your inmost being and present the bill for the carrying on of this great work of humanity, and as you would be true to the noblest way in which you foot the bill give as deep down in your soul you know you ought to give, so that the world may know that Victoria's heart is right."

Musical Programme. George G. Bushby, who is a member of the Victoria Red Shield drive committee, made an enthusiastic speech in which he lauded the work of the Salvation Army. He did not consider that the public required any convincing as to the merits of the Army's claim to support in its present appeal.

Madam Macdonald Fahey contributed vocal selections to the programme and sang in magnificent voice, Lieut. R. R. Webb sang "Salvation Lassie of Miss," which was very well received. Among the selections played by the Army's Victoria Silver Band was "The Red Shield March."

The head of the commission for Franco-American war matters has made an investigation into the number of French soldiers killed between the ages of twenty and thirty-one, and he reports that 58 per cent. had lost their lives.

"The intimate article of dress known as the corset which the majority of women wear, but know very little about"

Alice S. Cutler, M. D.

IN this pertinent way the well-known medical authority, Alice S. Cutler, M. D., describes the most important garment in the wardrobe of women.

"Buy your corset carefully," warns Dr. Cutler. "No one wants to be ill, and when women realize that the constant wearing of an ill-fitting corset helps to keep our hospitals open they will insist on being properly fitted to corsets instead of buying them hit or miss."

We unreservedly recommend Gossard Corsets, the original front-lacing corsets, as the complete expression of modern corsetry. Every Gossard Corset is hygienically correct. If properly fitted to the figure for which it was designed, and carefully adjusted each time it is worn, it will mould that figure to the ideal proportions of its type. It will give a priceless all-day comfort. It will safeguard the wearer against those bodily ailments that are often the result of improper corsetry. It will render a wearing service that alone is worth the price paid for the garment.

If possible, the new Spring and Summer Gossards are superior to those of the past season, which were generally acknowledged to be without equal in meeting the needs of active womanhood from the standpoint of comfort, hygiene, wear and figure improvement.

Our highly specialized fitted service reflects our sincere appreciation of the important relation a correctly fitted corset bears to your health, and to that perfect figure poise that gives the elusive charm of style.

TORONTO STREET CARS STILL RUN

Men Held Mass Meeting and Decided to Postpone Strike

Toronto, June 15.—Sentiment in favor of an immediate strike by the employees of the Toronto street railway existed at a meeting of the men yesterday, but the matter was postponed for weeks.

About 1,300 men attended the meeting, out of a membership of over 2,000. The proposition made by the chief officers of the union was to elect a representative to act on the board, the question of a strike to be deferred two weeks to give the board a chance to see what it could do for the men. This was defeated on a vote being taken, the majority against it being said to number several hundred.

Finally the union officials persuaded the men to postpone the strike a week. All danger of a second strike of the employees of the big five packing plants was avoided on Saturday. The employers accepted the award of the board of conciliation.

FLOWERS IN ARCTIC REGIONS

Flowers grow profusely in many parts of the Arctic regions. One of the most frequently met with is the cotton plant. The miners of the north of the American continent have a saying that wherever cotton blooms, ice is not far below.

One may walk for miles, between the months of June and August, through fields of cotton plants in flower, the white, silky tops swaying in the Arctic breeze. At present little use is made of it, from an industrial point of WISE MEN SAY— That many people spend so much time in earning a living that they have no time to live. That co-operation, not competition, is the life of business. That carelessness has caused more poverty, more failures in business, more hard times, than all financial panics in all times. That efficiency is that precautionary faculty which makes a man build a fence at the top of the precipice instead of a hospital at the bottom. That few men succeed because they are naturally brilliant. Success is due usually to persistence, determination and ambition. Any man can cultivate those qualities.

CALL TO LIBERALS ISSUED BY MARTIN

Premier of Saskatchewan Urges Energetic Efforts to Lower Tariff

Regina, June 15.—Premier Martin has issued a call to the Liberals and others in Saskatchewan who favor political action along progressive lines. In a statement of 1,800 words, he reviews political conditions, touching on the cost of living, to which he attributes most of the present unrest. He says that the people are entitled to food and fuel free from any duty, and in addition, the tariff should be materially reduced.

He claims Canada is the most highly taxed country in the world in indirect taxes in the form of a tariff on imports, and that in the forming of the tariff the farmers have been the last class to receive consideration.

He quotes the tariff resolution passed by the Saskatchewan Provincial Liberal Convention at Moose Jaw in 1917, and the resolution of the Saskatchewan Legislature last session on the same subject. He says he has every confidence that the National Liberal Convention at Ottawa in August will adopt a low tariff platform, and believes it to be the duty of all in this Province who desire to see put into effect the progressive platform to see that the subject is fully represented at the National Convention, and for that reason he says arrangements have been made to hold conventions in each federal constituency in the Province for the purpose of electing delegates to attend the gathering.

In closing, he points to the danger of the progressive forces being divided, saying no greater misfortune could befall, as division would mean defeat.

A GREAT BRITISH AIR VICTORY.

Newfoundland to Ireland in sixteen hours! In that one sentence lies a significance that is difficult to comprehend.

All the famous records of ocean leviathans have been shattered in a single night. Alcock and his brother officer took tea on the North American continent and breakfasted next morning in Ireland.

The actual time taken by Captain Alcock to cover the 1,900 odd miles was sixteen hours and twelve minutes and the major part of the distance was flown in darkness, fog and drizzling rain.

Soon after the airmen commenced their momentous journey their wireless propeller fell a prey to the wind. And while some apprehension was felt, the silence of the radio instrument spelt disaster.

When H. G. Wells wrote the "War in the Air" he portrayed a battle in the North Atlantic which figuratively sent its readers dizzy.

Captain Alcock's flight undoubtedly is the most thrilling chapter in the book of human progress. There will be no jealousy in any country because a Britisher has realized the greatest dream of an airman's ambition.

THE "TIME IS NOT RIPE."

John Kavanagh, one of Vancouver's most notorious "Reds," is quoted as saying: "All I can say is this: If revolution is forced upon the country it will be from the top and not from us."

Assuredly the time is not ripe for the realization of Comrade Kavanagh's amiable ideal, and it is not going to ripen. The present activities of Kavanagh and his Winnipeg confederates have guaranteed that.

Canada is learning a lot these days. In a way, she is indebted to the small but vociferous coterie of "Red" leaders for showing her just what their movement means, what it means to the welfare of the public, to the public rights, health and property.

The "time is ripe," however, for the suppression of "Red" propagandists and apostles in this country. The fact that these advocates of lawlessness and disorder may have been permitted to expound and promote their doctrines in other countries no reason why they should be allowed to do it in Canada.

hate trades unionism and organized labor, and a few years ago—before they began their attempts to exploit it—did not try to dissemble their hostility.

The men at the head of organized labor in America know these elements and their game for what they are, and all those who have the welfare of the great trades unionist movement at heart would do well to heed the advice that comes to them from that source.

THE INDUSTRIAL COMMISSIONERSHIP.

One of the chief provisions of the Department of Industries Act was that which empowered the Government to appoint an Industrial Commissioner. It was easy enough to make the provision, however, but quite another matter to select the right man to make a success of this novel department of the public service.

It was for the simple reason that the Provincial Executive realized that unless the greatest possible care was taken in the selection, any hopes placed on the operation of the Act would go aglimmering. Each candidate, therefore, was required to submit himself to a test which consisted of a practical demonstration of the manner in which he would tackle a bona-fide proposal already in the hands of the Government.

It is satisfactory to note that the post of Industrial Commissioner has gone to a returned soldier. Major Martyn has had a long experience in France and he has doubtless assimilated a good deal of Tommy's point of view.

It will now be the duty of every progressive body in British Columbia to lend its aid to the Department, while much valuable time will be saved if those zealous individuals with utopian schemes will apply the pruning fork before allowing unpractical proposals to hamper the Commissioner's work.

COLLECTIVE BARGAINING.

The statement of the employers involved in the original dispute in Winnipeg shows that they recognized the system of collective bargaining as it exists in all the established international labor organizations and approved by the American Federation of Labor.

PROVINCIAL RIGHTS.

The Montreal Herald speaks with a full knowledge of Canadian history when it says: "Disallowance by the Dominion Government of the Settlers Rights Act passed at the last session of the British Columbia Legislature, has given rise to a strong protest from settlers on Vancouver Island, backed up by members of government and Boards of Trade."

The Montreal Herald speaks with a full knowledge of Canadian history when it says: "Disallowance by the Dominion Government of the Settlers Rights Act passed at the last session of the British Columbia Legislature, has given rise to a strong protest from settlers on Vancouver Island, backed up by members of government and Boards of Trade."

Disallowing provincial legislation is doubtful policy at all times. It is dangerous when it is inspired by outside private interests.

SOMETHING WRONG SOMEWHERE.

From the resolution passed by the Dominion Executive of the Great War Veterans' Association it is not possible to discover the precise objection to Sir James Loughheed retaining the portfolio of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment.

The resolution asserts that the administration of the Department has caused keen dissatisfaction and much unrest among the returned soldiers in Canada, and has placed in jeopardy and successful rehabilitation of disabled men.

In the meantime, however, there is the case of Lieut. Col. McKelvie Bell, who recently tendered his resignation as Director of Medical Services to Sir James Loughheed because he objected to the manner in which the Department was administered.

VICKERS VIMY AEROPLANE FLEW ACROSS ATLANTIC IN LESS THAN SIXTEEN HOURS AND A QUARTER HOURS

British officers, Captain John Alcock and Lieut. Arthur Brown, landed on the Irish Coast after the first non-stop flight across the Atlantic.

The Aero Club received a message from Clifden, Galway, not long after the trans-Atlantic fliers had landed, signed by a man which stated that they had completed the flight in 16 hours and 12 minutes.

In reply the Club telegraphed Captain Alcock: "Keep machine intact until observer arrives."

The Air Ministry stated that certain marks had been put on the machine in Newfoundland, which must be officially identified by a member of the Royal Air Force before the flight would be declared to have been completed.

Word came from Clifden yesterday afternoon that the pilot and navigator of the plane were leaving for Galway, whence Lieut. Brown planned to travel by train to London, arriving here Tuesday morning.

The Vickers-Vimy aeroplane, in which Capt. Alcock and Lieut. Brown made the trans-Atlantic flight, is similar in every respect to the standard Vimy machines supplied to the British Government.

The span of the Vickers Vimy is sixty-seven feet and its over-all length forty-two feet eight inches. The width of the planes is ten feet six inches.

The pilot, Captain J. Alcock, B.S.C., was born at Manchester in 1892, and received his technical engineering education at the Empress Motor Works at Manchester.

Milestones in History of Aviation From Beginning to Present

1500—Jean-Baptiste Danton made flights with a glider of non-vibrant wings in Perugia, Italy.
1742—Benjamin De Laquerelle used imitation gliding wings from a house on the Seine to a garden of the Tuileries.

Summer Uses for The Edison Phonograph

For that clubby little dance in the cool of the evening, when you roll back the rug in the living room, or perhaps push the Phonograph next to an open window and dance on the porch. It's much easier to stay at home on summer evenings than to go out, if there is only something to do, and with an Edison you can always dance.

For that lively youngster on his vacation from school, or his big brother from college, to whom the long days of loafing look a bit dull at home. The latest music on the Edison does a lot towards keeping him amused and occupied.

Following is the view of the management of the railroads on the companies' declaration:
In our opinion the proposals contained therein provide for the application of the principle of collective bargaining in exactly the same manner as that principle is applied in agreements between the railway companies and the various bodies of the organized employees and should constitute a fair and just settlement of the question of recognition in disputes between the metal trades employers and their employees.

Strikers Replaced. Winnipeg, June 16.—Definite information as to the number of running trades union employees who withdrew their services as part of the sympathy strike here is unobtainable. Officers of the international brother-hoods and of the railway companies expressed the belief last night, however, that the movement was a failure and that no serious disturbance of traffic might be expected. James Murdoch, Vice-President of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, admitted, however, that "a considerable number from all three railways" seemingly had gone out. He thought the Canadian Government Railways would be most affected. Other union officers declared that 1,500 union men could and would be used to replace "illegal strikers" if necessary.

Following the announcement that the international unions would "maintain proper contract obligations with railway companies under any circumstances," Mr. Murdoch declared that every man who struck would be disqualified. Where the majority of a lodge were on strike or a lodge refuses to expel striking members, the Brotherhood charters would be promptly withdrawn, he stated.

A BEDTIME STORY

UNCLE WIGGILY'S SLEIGH RIDE.
Copyright, 1918, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate. (By Howard R. Garis.)

"Uncle Wiggily, are you going to do anything special this morning?" asked Nurse Jane Wuzzy, the muskrat lady housekeeper, as she saw the bunny rabbit gentleman putting on his tall silk hat in the hollow stump bungalow.
"Oh, no, nothing special," answered Mr. Longears. "I had some thought of going to look for an adventure, but if there is anything I can do for you I'll do it."
"I need a few things from the store," said Nurse Jane. "Some bread and butter, some sugar, a lemon for a pie and things like that."
"Oh, I'll get them for you!" cried Uncle Wiggily, his pink nose twinkling like a hot cross bun. "I can go to the store and look for an adventure at the same time."
"Then take this basket to carry the things from the grocery," said the muskrat lady, "and she handed the bunny a big basket, which he hung on his paw."
Then off started Uncle Wiggily, ever for an adventure, but none happened, and he was beginning to think he wouldn't have any.
"There you are, Mr. Longears," said the grocery store cat, as he filled the basket with the things Nurse Jane Arthur E. Martin, of Calgary, has arrived at the Empress Hotel.

H. F. Pullen, editor of the Prince Rupert News, arrived in Victoria yesterday from the north on a visit to his family.

Lieut. E. N. Trapper-Lomax, of Armstrong, is registered at the Empress Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Lindsay and little son arrived in the city yesterday from Vancouver and are guests at the Empress Hotel for a few days.

The Bishop Cridge Chapter, I. O. D. E., will hold its regular monthly meeting to-morrow afternoon at the new headquarters in the Jones' Building.

Miss Rutan, V.A.D., of Shaughnessy Heights Military Hospital, Vancouver, came over to Victoria on Saturday, having been transferred to duty at a local hospital.

Miss Connie Lee returned to the city yesterday afternoon from Vancouver where she has been visiting friends for the past two months. She is staying with her sister, Miss Cook.

Miss Peggy McBride was at New Westminster last week as the guest of her grandmother, Mrs. A. H. McBride. During her stay in the mainland city her aunt, Miss McBride, gave an enjoyable dance in her honor.

Mrs. M. J. Grant, of Victoria, Past President, was among the officers of the Heketaik Order in attendance at the dance given by the I. O. O. F. in Vancouver, on Thursday evening. Mrs. Grant assisted in the decoration ceremony in which three officers were presented with the Chivalry Jewel.

Miss Olive Walker, of New Westminster, has arrived in the city to take the nursing course at the Royal Jubilee Hospital. Prior to leaving her home she was the recipient of many useful gifts from the Girls' Auxiliary of the Queen Ann Ward at the Westminster Hospital.

Capt. J. Irwin Mann, accompanied by Mrs. Mann and their two children and nursemaid, arrived yesterday from England and are staying at the Empress Hotel. Before leaving for overseas service Capt. Mann was a resident of this city.

The annual pound party of the B. C. Protestant Orphanage will be held at the home on Thursday next, June 19, when it is hoped friends of the institution will attend. Through the kindness of E. E. Jenkins, the manager of the Foundation Company, the Foundation Band will furnish a programme of music during the afternoon.

Mrs. Charlotte Cameron, F.R.G.S., noted traveler and author, is in Vancouver en route to the Yukon, accompanied by Mrs. Carrie Jacobs Bond, the well-known song writer. Mrs. Cameron, in the course of her varied travel experiences, journeyed 20,000 miles through the heart of Africa accompanied only by natives. She has just completed a lecture tour of the United States from New York to San Diego, and prior to that was for many months engaged in canteen work at Victoria Station, London.

At the Metropolitan Church on Saturday afternoon the marriage was solemnized by the Rev. H. S. Osborne, of Miss Jessie Hickens, Drinkwater, youngest daughter of the late H. Drinkwater, of Alberni, and Henry Vaughan Cleaton, second son of the late G. G. Cleaton, of Middlesborough, Yorkshire, England. The bride, while her travelling suit of navy blue with large picture hat and wore a corsage bouquet of roses. Mr. and Mrs. Cleaton left on the afternoon boat for Vancouver where the honeymoon will be spent. Mr. Cleaton recently returned to Victoria after three and a half years' overseas service.

A quiet but charming wedding was performed at St. Saviour's Church by the Rev. Robt. Connell at 1.30 Saturday afternoon, when Edith Jessie Craig, myle, daughter of the late John Grant Dawson, Advocate, Aberdeen, Scotland, and Mrs. Dawson, Kemnay, Aberdeenshire, became the bride of Joseph Gordon Crosby, of Uxbridge, Ontario, he having recently returned from overseas. Mrs. Mac Shire made a very charming bridesmaid. Mrs. Bignall acted as matron of honor, and Capt. F. H. Buck, M.C., chaplain of 46th Battalion, supported the groom. A dainty wedding breakfast was served at the home of Mrs. Shires, "Marion Brae." The happy couple left on the 4.30 boat for Seattle.

now they had to go back, taking their sleds with them.
"Good-bye!" called Uncle Wiggily, waving his paw. Then, as he looked up at the sun and saw that it was nearly dinner time, he said: "I must hurry home to Nurse Jane with these groceries. Gracious me! I didn't know it was so late. She'll be in a hurry for them."
Uncle Wiggily looked at the long hill down which he must go to get to his hollow stump bungalow.

"If I only had a sled I could coast down very quickly," he said to himself. "But all the animal children took this back to school with them. Ha! I know what I'll do! I'll make believe the grocery basket is a sled, and I'll get in that and coast down hill to my bungalow."
So Uncle Wiggily got in the basket of groceries, where there was just room for him, and down the hill he coasted, stopping with a bump at the bottom. And he was home just, and the only thing that happened was that some of the butter was spread on the bread as Uncle Wiggily coasted down hill in the basket.

But that didn't much matter; and if the piece of cheese doesn't get lonesome when the apple pie goes to the moving pictures with the cocoanut cake, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Billie's knife.

SAVING THE BABIES OF WORKING MOTHERS

France and Germany Make Maternity Grants; Nursing-rooms and Creches

The efforts which are being made in France and Germany to safeguard the lives of the children of mothers engaged in various industries are described in a report which has been prepared for the Welfare Advisory Committee of the British Ministry of Munitions. It is curious to note that although institutions have been provided in both countries for the care of the children, the mothers seem to have little faith in them.

Factory facilities. In France special efforts have been made to provide factory nursing rooms. In August, 1917, employers were compelled by law to allow special rest periods to mothers in order that their children might be suckled. In Germany a great number of creches have been provided, and in France there is a demand that infant schools should be adapted for quite young children.

The tendency of the general (as distinct from the factory) creche movement is to become more and more public. Municipalities are taking a larger part in it, either by providing the creches or by liberal subsidies. In both countries the central authorities assist, directly or indirectly—in France, the State (the department also helps); in Germany, the Imperial Government and the States. An interesting feature in Germany is the assistance also given by the invalidity insurance institutions, and even, in some cases, by fire insurance companies on the ground that children left without care cause fires.

Institutions Unpopular. Despite the advances which have been made it is considered that the number of institutions falls far short of the need. On the other hand the institutions do not, generally speaking, appear to be popular with the working mothers. Whether from prejudice, or from defects in the institutions themselves, or from the additional trouble of taking the child to and from the institution, a large proportion of mothers show little liking for them, and prefer to leave their children to the care of relatives or neighbours.

Women in Childbirth. In France and Germany before the war some provision was made for women in childbirth. In France, under a law of 1913, an allowance from public funds might be received by necessitous mothers for eight weeks in all, of which at least four must be given in childbirth. The classes of women entitled to the allowance have been extended during the war. In Germany the maternity allowances under the sickness insurance law have been con-

MISS LEITCH AGAIN ELECTED PRESIDENT

At Provincial Convention of King's Daughters; Officers From Vancouver Island

Mrs. L. H. Hardie, provincial secretary, and Mrs. H. A. S. Morley, of the executive, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Morley, returned to the city on yesterday afternoon's boat from the mainland, where they have been attending the two-day Provincial convention of the King's Daughters. Others who went over from Vancouver Island were Miss Leitch, Provincial President, Madame Bone, Errington, Gardner, Wilkinson, Sears, McLorie and Miss Conroy of Victoria; Mrs. Herd, Mrs. Fry, Mrs. Christina, and Miss Wilson of Bannock.

The election of officers resulted in the re-election of the following: Miss Leitch, president; Mrs. L. H. Hardie, secretary; Miss Henderson (Vancouver) Treasurer, while Mrs. Morley, Victoria; Mrs. Herd, Duncan, Mrs. McNair and Mrs. Russell, of Vancouver, were elected to the executive. Mrs. Christina, of Duncan, was re-elected literary secretary.

MRS. NASH RE-ELECTED CLUB PRESIDENT

Ladies' Musical Club Optimistic in Spite of Financial Loadstone

Mrs. R. R. Nash will again guide the destinies of the Ladies' Musical Club during the coming year, having been re-elected president at the annual meeting held at the Empress Hotel on Saturday afternoon. The other officers elected by acclamation were first vice-president, Mrs. Hicks; second vice-president, Mrs. Campbell; secretary, Mrs. Walsh; assistant secretary, Miss Denise Harris; treasurer, Mrs. Hoard.

Executive: Mrs. Macdonald Fahy, Mrs. D. B. McConnan, Mrs. Bennett Brock, Mrs. Love, Mrs. Umbach, Mrs. Hanzel, Miss Harris and Miss Moore. In spite of the deficit of $500 incurred during the past season, as revealed in the report of the treasurer, Mrs. Hoard, the club is optimistic as to the future. This optimism found reflection in the presidential address and the secretary's report, both officers expressing the opinion that the stress of the past season had earned for the club many new friends as well as showing the staunchness and loyalty of the old. The public also had gained a more intimate understanding of the organization, with the result that more general support might be expected during the coming season.

Special reference was made to Miss Agnew's generous offer in placing her beautiful residence and gardens on Rockland Avenue at the disposal of the club for a bridge-tee and garden fete on Saturday, July 5, by which the club hopes to recoup the greater part of the outstanding deficit.

MISTRESS AND MAID CLUB.

A social club in which domestic servants can come and play the hostess to their friends is a probable feature of reconstruction in Birmingham, England. There has been a remarkable rapprochement between mistress and maid, and suggested co-operative effort is being formulated for discussion with the mistresses who have organized themselves, and will confer with the maids through a joint council. The deliberations will, however, be quite inviolate from Government intrusion. The friendly attitude of the mistresses fills Miss Varley with optimism. Apart from women and girls who joined the Workers' Union as munitionettes, about 300 have joined direct from the servants in the Birmingham area.

Goddess

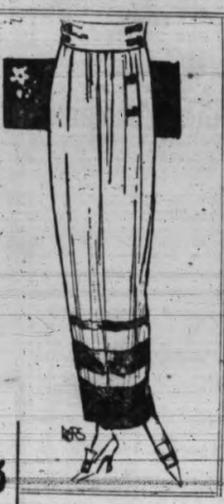

Goddess Corsets That Lace in Front differ from all other corsets. The tongue under lacing and the patented under-clasp feature prevent pinching, and give much smoother effect. The supple boning makes them fit wonderfully comfortably in every position.
It was possibly this quality which tempted the noted and beautiful screen artist—Anita Stewart,—to write of the Goddess—"Without undue compression they add to the Grace of the figure."
Sold by leading corsetiers. Made in Canada, by the makers of D.E.A. and Le-Dia Corsets. B-19-G

BROCKDORFF-RANTZAU GOES TO WEIMAR WITH REPLY OF THE ALLIES

Answer to German Counter-Proposals Was Delivered by Dutasta at 6.49 p.m. To-day in Versailles; Teutons Allowed Five Days

Versailles, June 16.—The reply of the Allies to the German counter-proposals was delivered by Paul Dutasta, General Secretary of the Peace Conference...

The provision for civil control of the territory on the left bank of the Rhine, which had been tentatively agreed upon, was eliminated from the third draft of the terms.

The German plenipotentiaries signed a receipt for the treaty, writing upon it the exact time from which the five days' limit within which they must sign or reject the document will date.

Paris, June 16.—It is anticipated generally that the Germans will ask for an extension of time in which to reply to the final peace conditions.

Vancouver, June 16.—No change is apparent in the local strike situation. The fourteenth day of the general strike finds the city in full enjoyment of all the public utilities except street cars.

The strike of telephone operators, which was ordered by the strike leaders as a penalty for the continuance of the jitneys, has almost ceased to be noticeable as a result of the excellent service which the operators who refused to join the strike, assisted by volunteers, are giving in Vancouver.

The Vancouver Engineering Works, employing about 200 men, threw open its doors for the resumption of work this morning, and it is stated that about seventy-five per cent. of the men went back to their tasks, with others reporting during the day.

STRIKE ORDER TO RAILWAY SHOPMEN

Workers Ready to Walk Out Unless Railway War Board Makes Concessions

Montreal, June 16.—A strike order was issued this afternoon by the Executive Committee of Division No. 4 of the Railway Shopmen of America and unless eleven-hour concessions are made by the Canadian Railway War Board, 40,000 men will strike on Wednesday morning.

A delegation representing the shopmen has been attempting to negotiate increases in wages and shorter working hours for a month, but without success.

The President of the shopmen's delegation here, announced this afternoon that the strike order had been sent out. He also intimated that the Federated Trades of Railway Workers are included among the shopmen affected by it.

MILK AND BUTTER SUPPLY OF CITY

Some Comments on Situation From Standpoint of Producer

There has been so much discussion of the food question especially in regard to the prices of butter and milk, that inquiry was made by a Times representative with a view to ascertaining the present situation.

Dealing first with the channels through which the milk supply is handled, it may be said that the formation of the Vancouver Island Milk Producers' Association all milk producers on the island have been banded together and the creameries of Victoria must supply the Association for their supply.

The creameries are now selling to the public at the following prices: Whipping cream, quart, $1.30; pint, 65c; half pint, 35c. Commercial cream: Quarts, $1.10; pint, 55c; half pint, 30c. Butter fat values were increased to $1 a pound on June 1.

One of the milk producers—and he is one of many who have expressed the same opinion—said he had no doubts whatever that the present prices in these commodities were due originally to the Federal Government fixing a high price for wheat, which as wheat was the basic food, naturally resulted in all other prices adjusting themselves to a higher level.

All these features were pointed out by The Times as illustrating the difficulties under which the producer was operating. "There is no inducement to the farmer to raise calves," he said, "owing to the fact that he is obliged to feed them during two years with feed holding at top prices. The result is that 90 per cent. of the calves are butchered. In addition to all this we have to put up with the many restrictions imposed by civic administrations."

"The only way I can suggest for reducing the cost to the consumer would be to encourage a more general use of skim milk and buttermilk of which there are large quantities and which are very nutritious. These can be had at greatly reduced prices, and if used up instead of being thrown away or fed to hogs, would make it possible to reduce the price of the main milk products," said the producer.

Having heard the story of the case from the creameries and producers' standpoint, both of whom made it plain that there was nothing in the business under present conditions, a visit was paid to grain dealer, the price of whose goods was alleged to be the offending obstacle in the way of profits.

The grain dealer pointed to the keen competition in business and the utter impossibility of making much profit under such conditions and his opinion, too, was that the whole trouble centred on the $2.21 per bushel Fort William price fixed by the Government.

Province Suspends Publication, Insisting on Its Right to Control

Vancouver, June 16.—When the members of the International Typographical Union employed in the office of The Vancouver Daily Province refused to-day to put in type an advertisement tendered by the Returned Citizens' League, the management posted an order which led to the suspension of publication until further notice.

The Vancouver World types are working this afternoon, and it is expected that the usual editions of The World will be published.

The Citizens' League tendered The World and the Province an advertisement headed: "Constituted Authority of Proletarian Dictatorship. Which side are you?"

The Province printers put in type the Citizens' League advertisement without the quoted sentence in regard to the freedom of the press, but refused altogether to set the Returned Citizens' League's half-page announcement.

The management of The World insisted also that all copy offered the men had to be put in type without question.

The printers wanted to have the question submitted to the conciliation council provided under their agreement with the Province, but the management refused to accept the view that this question was one for the conciliators and ordered that the copy be set or the shop vacated. The men thereupon left their work.

The management of The World insisted also that the two advertisements should be put in type and the men agreed. The freedom of the press clause was then altered by the publisher of The World to read as follows:

"As some members of the printers' union have attempted to destroy the freedom of the press by riot and disorder, after the right of the management to regulate the nature of its own columns had been vindicated through the setting of the advertisement. Work in the World office continued."

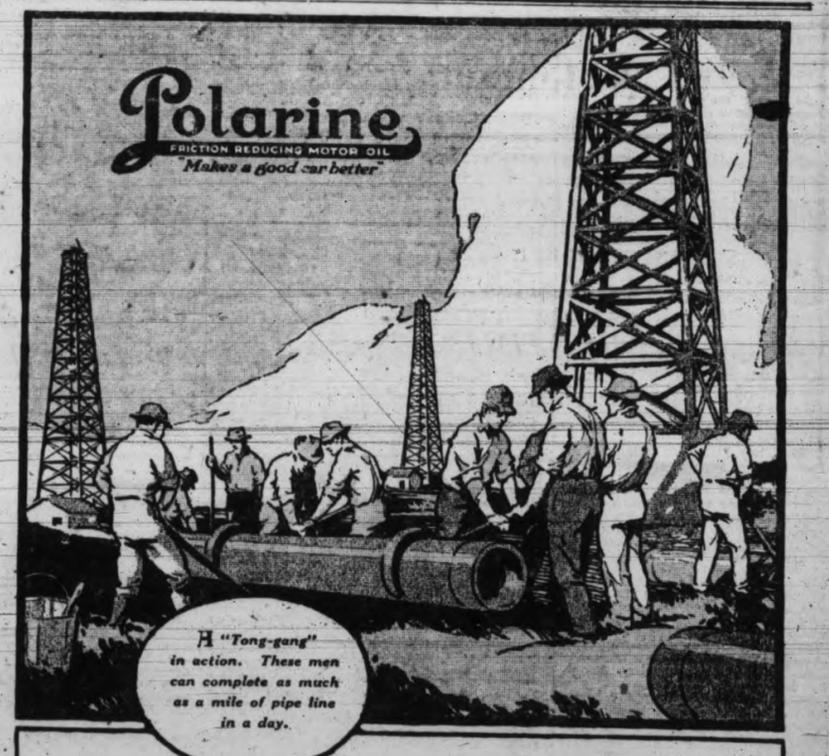

The noon edition of the Province had been published before the trouble reached its climax. Efforts are being made to communicate with the international president of the Typographical Union.

GRATUITY RECORDS

The remains of the late Mrs. Catherine Burnes were laid to rest in Ross Bay Cemetery this morning. The funeral left the family residence, 1945 Pandora Avenue, at 8.45 o'clock, proceeding to St. Andrew's Cathedral, where Mass was solemnized by Rev. Father McDonald in the presence of a large gathering of old-time friends of the deceased.

At St. Joseph's Hospital, on Saturday afternoon the death occurred of Ruth Annie Creech, twenty-year-old daughter of Richard A. Creech, of 1556 Ash Street. WESLEY CHURCH GIFT TO NEW GIRLS' HOME

Congregation Vote $100; Garden Party Wednesday to Aid Home

Material support to the extent of $100 was voted to the recently established Girls' Club of the Local Council of Women by the congregation of Wesley Methodist Church, Victoria West, last night. Dr. Hayner was the sponsor of the motion, taking the stand that the Church by supporting a home destined to help the girls of the city of whatever denomination or creed, would thus demonstrate its practical Christianity. His motion was seconded by Mr. Daniels and heartily carried by the congregation.

The Local Council of Women which has been instrumental in establishing the Home is representative of practically every church in the city and vicinity. The Catholic Ladies' Aid, as their share of assistance in the project have planned the garden party to be held at Governor's House, Wednesday afternoon. The Aid will have charge of the entertainment programme while other members of the Local Council will assist with the general arrangements.

Through the kindness of Manager E. E. Jenkins, the Foundation Company's band under the leadership of Lou Turner will give a concert in the beautiful grounds from 5 till 8 o'clock. From 5 till 7 a musical programme will be presented under the direction of Mrs. H. Bridges, president of the Catholic Ladies' Aid.

BRITISH AEROPLANE BIGGEST IN WORLD

Triplane Designed to Bomb Berlin Carrying Four Tons of Explosives

There has just been completed in England the largest aeroplane ever constructed. It is a triplane, and is one of the two ordered for the Royal Air Force prior to the signing of the armistice. Its object was for use in bombing Berlin, and, in addition to carrying eight guns, it was equipped to carry sixteen bombs weighing 500 pounds each, equivalent to more than four ordinary tons of explosives. Utilized for peaceful uses, this monster aeroplane could carry more than fifty persons within the fuselage, which is ten feet in diameter, but the designers have planned another machine with a fuselage of sixteen feet diameter, capable of carrying ninety-two passengers.

This huge aeroplane was designed by W. G. Tarrant, built by the Warrent Aircraft Construction Company, and assembled at Farnborough, Surrey, where it now is awaiting its trial flight. The fuselage is seventy-six feet in length, without a single rib to obstruct the vision, and a clear passageway. The three tiers of wide planes resemble, it is said, the decks of an ocean liner, the top one being thirty-seven feet above the ground. The span of the largest plane is 131 feet. That is the middle one, the other two being ninety-eight feet long. They have a total surface area of 5,000 square feet.

The propelling force consists of six Napier engines, developing 3,000 horse power. Of the six propellers four are two-bladed, twelve feet six inches diameter, tractor screws, arranged two in line between the middle and lower and middle and upper planes respectively, and the remaining couple, at the back of the planes, are four-bladed propellers of ten feet six inches diameter. The starting system is set running from the engineer's compartment. Seats for two pilots are raised well within the nose, advanced some ten or twelve feet before the planes and propellers, so they have a perfectly clear view. For fighting purposes, each pilot would have had a light machine gun by his side.

Immediately behind the pilot's seats is a room in which the engineer stands, with various levers for working the engines. He can take vocal starting directions, the pilots being left free to control the flying, but they, too, exercise a master control over the engines, and have levers by which the throttles can be separately adjusted. It is a cramped space, flanked by the main petrol tanks, and other main petrol tanks overhead. There are ample proportions, carrying 1,600 gallons of gasoline. For very long flights, such as, for instance, crossing the Atlantic, supplementary tanks can be installed.

The weight of the machine with an average load is eighteen and one-half tons, suggestive of the power required from the motors to raise such a monster flying machine from the ground. In its trial flights the triplane will carry a crew of five persons.

LIBRARY ENCOURAGES THE BLIND TO READ

Many New Books Received in Large Spring Shipment; Aviation New Feature

While they have decided after investigation that it would not be advisable to establish a section of books for the blind, the officials of the Victoria Public Library are doing all in their power to promote the reading of "braille." They have subscribed to two magazines for the blind, "Progress," a publication dealing with the affairs of the day, and "Flora Jucunda," which contains articles and stories of a lighter nature. These magazines have already become popular with blind people in the city, and it is intended that they shall be circulated to any point on the island as they are required.

The library authorities have come to the conclusion that there is not a sufficiently large number of blind people in Victoria to warrant the heavy expense involved in the establishment of a separate department for their use. It appears also that books for the blind can be borrowed from the Canadian National Library for the Blind at 143 College Street, Toronto. This institution will forward books to any address in Canada free of cost, so that a "blind" department in the Victoria Library would largely duplicate this service at a large cost to the public.

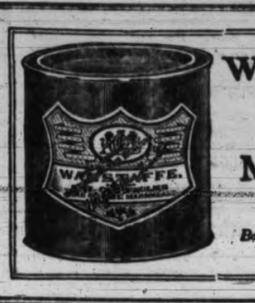

Aviation Books Now a Feature.
Books on aviation now form a notable feature of the present Library fare. The works available deal with the technical side of the subject and with the exploits of various celebrated fliers. In the latter class is a book on the great French aviator, while "Aviation in Canada" describes the great work of the Canadian aviators in the war.

Closely akin to the aviation books is the section devoted to automobiles. The works included cover every phase of the subject and with the spread of automobiles they are becoming more popular every day. This section has been kept right up to date and on its shelves the very latest publications appear.

Abreast of the Times.
In a large shipment of books which has just arrived the Public Librarian

VOLLEYS OF CHEERS GREETED VETERANS ON RETURN HOME

Western Scots' Remnant Came Off Afternoon Boat Yesterday

SOME NOTES ON THE GALLANT PARTY

After three years hard and continuous service in the battle zone one hundred officers and men, the surviving remnant of the 67th Battalion, Western Scots, were enthusiastically welcomed home yesterday afternoon. Hundreds of people gathered at the docks and sent volleys of cheers as the war-weary boys stepped from the steamer to the open arms of their parents and relatives. It was a very impressive scene and the fighters were greatly pleased with the way in which they were received.

Three years ago last February this gallant battalion marched through the main streets to the skirl of the bagpipes. At that time it was 1,100 strong and included as hard and brave a lot of men as ever left the shores of Canada. It was not without feeling the pang of sorrow that people witnessed the relic of this battalion return yesterday. Only a handful was left and many of these had one and two gold stripes on their left arm, indicating that they had been wounded. The remnant had survived many great battles. Immediately after getting to France in the summer of 1916 the battalion moved to the Vimy sector to prepare for the great assault, where the Canadian Corps won the everlasting thanks of the people of France. When the Fourth Division came out of the line to reorganize after this scrap it was found necessary to break up some of the British Columbia battalions, as the province was unable to reinforce its many units. Accordingly the Western Scots were split up and sent to 54th, 55th and 702nd Comox Battalions, where they carried on their splendid work and assisted in making an enviable record for their units.

The remnant went through the terrific battle for Hill 70, and then prepared for the taking of Lens, which was called off when the British drive in the Ypres sector developed splendidly, but struck a snag at the Pass-chendaele Ridge. Both the English and Australian forces failed to drive the Germans from the ridge, and as a last resort the Canadians were called on. The operation of the Fourth Division in this greatest battle in the history of the corps, was favorably commented upon by the great chiefs.

Lost Heavy at Bourlon.

Then followed the Amiens show last August, and a little later the boys went through at Arras, then the Hindenburg line. Both the 54th and 102nd Battalions lost a lot of men in the taking of Bourlon Woods, one of the hardest tasks ever detailed to a division. The terrific fighting at Cambrai followed, and the boys completed a splendid record of fighting by the capture of Valenciennes. After this the division was sent out on rest, and when the First and Second Divisions marched to the Rhine the Fourth Division took up a position in Belgium.

Members of the 67th Western Scots Association met the steamer Princess Patricia yesterday afternoon, and the pipers' band rent the air with the music of the Highlands. As all the boys had been discharged in the East they did not have to proceed to the Willows, and as a result there was no parade, the parents and friends taking charge of their boys and hustling them home to the festive board in motor cars.

Lieut.-Col. A. B. Carey, C.M.G., D.S.O. (and bar) enlisted as a lieutenant in the 67th Battalion in July, 1916, and proceeded overseas as a major in this battalion. Shortly after going to France with the unit, he transferred to the 402nd Battalion and was wounded in the Somme battle. He was awarded the D.S.O. in the fighting at Regina Trench. In May, 1917 he was promoted to command the 54th Battalion with the rank of Lieut.-Col. He was again wounded at Lens. The bar to his D.S.O. he won at Amiens. He was wounded for the third time at Cambrai. The Companion of the Order of St. Michael and St. George was conferred upon him on the King's last birthday honors list. He was five times mentioned in dispatches. Colonel Carey wears also the ribbons of the South African and Spanish American Wars, in civil life he is a civil engineer and among other big jobs undertaken by him was the construction of the Electric Railway power plant at Jordan River. He is thirty-eight years of age.

Private to Major.

Major J. B. Bailey, D.S.O., joined as a private at the outbreak of war in the 11th M.B. Battalion, and transferred to the 102nd Battalion on mobilization at Comox. He subsequently received his commission. After a year's service with the battalion at the front, he was appointed adjutant and subsequently transferred as second-in-command to the 54th Battalion. He was awarded the D.S.O. at the battles of Bourlon Wood and Cambrai. At the latter operation he had command of both the 75th and 102nd Battalions, whose colonel had been wounded. He was also twice mentioned in dispatches. He will remain in Victoria till his wife and family return from England, where he will return to his home in Sandwick, Courtenay.

Major G. S. W. Nicholson, M.C., proceeds to enlisting was secretary of the Victoria Club, a well-known figure in all local athletics, holding the presidency of the B.C.A.A.U. in Victoria for two years. He enlisted in the 67th Western Scots for which battalion he recruited several hundred local athletes. He was promoted to the rank of major on the field during the Somme battles and awarded the Military Cross for fighting in Lens. Though badly wounded in the breaking of the Hindenburg Line he returned to the front in time for the last battles before the signing of the Armistice. Major Nicholson was met at the boat by his wife and children.

Tallest Man in Army.

Lieut. G. A. Ridgway-Wilson, an original officer of the 54th Battalion, is a native son of Victoria and son of Lieut.-Col. W. Ridgway-Wilson, 31 George Road. He joined up with the Regiment in October, 1914, and transferred to the 54th on mobilization of that unit. Lieut. Ridgway-Wilson is one of the color-bearers of the battalion. He is the tallest man in the British Army, standing six feet eight inches in his stockings. In spite of his height he has come through the campaign without a scratch.

Lieut. P. Price, M.C. of Errington, is another original 67th man. He went overseas as a private with the Western Scots. He worked his way up through the ranks, receiving his tenancy for conspicuous work in the field. He was awarded the M. C. at the battle of Bourlon Wood, in which engagement he was wounded. His brother Bob Price won his commission on the field. He was killed in the Cambrai battle.

Capt. S. McLauders, a 45th Battalion officer, is a native of Tatamagouche, N. S., and was at Winnipeg at the outbreak of the war. He enlisted in the 517th Battalion and later transferred to the 67th. He was awarded his commission in the field. Capt. McLauders is only on a visit to B. C. and will return to Nova Scotia in a month or two.

Lieut. H. N. Major, M.C., was an original 54th Battalion officer. He is a resident of Proctor, B.C., and won both his commission and the M. C. on the field. He was wounded at Cambrai. In the last days of the war he was intelligence officer of his battalion. Recruited Half Battalion.

Lieut. S. C. Cory, M. M., is credited with recruiting nearly half the West in the 51st Battalion and later transport sergeant of that unit, and won his M. M. with the famous pack-mule train on the Somme. He was later transferred to the 54th Battalion, with which he acted as transport officer.

Lieut. D. Davidson was an original 67th Battalion, N. C. O., and was promoted on the field. Capt. W. W. Dunlop, M. C. and bar, left here in the ranks of the 67th Battalion. He won his commission on the field and the M. C. at Lens and the bar at Amiens. He was adjutant of the 102nd Battalion at the end of hostilities. He left to-day for San Francisco on a short holiday.

Capt. R. L. Gale, M. C., enlisted as a private in the 102nd Battalion, and acted as scout officer with his battalion through most of the engagements. His home is at Smithers, B. C., where he hopes to return shortly. Among the remnants of the old 67th was Sergt. John March, who is a resident of Cowichan Lake, and is well-known on the Island. Sergeant March went over also with the Western Scots. After seeing much front-line action he was awarded his stripes.

PUPILS COMPETE IN SHORT STORY WRITING

Remarkable clever stories by a number of school children appear in the last issue of The Public School Magazine. The story competition for this month, it is announced, has been won by Leslie F. Mawhinney, who displays a great deal of originality. The second prize was won by Agnes Maclean by her tale of "The New Daughter." Several other stories, the scene of which is laid in Victoria, help to make the issue one of the most attractive of the year.

CURED OF DYSPESIA

BY USING BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

The symptoms of dyspepsia are so numerous and diversified in different individuals that probably no description could exactly represent them as they occur in any given case, but a few of the most prominent are a rising and souring of food, pain, flatulence and distention of the abdomen, a sensation of discomfort after every meal, which is sometimes followed by sickness and vomiting.

To get rid of dyspepsia a careful arrangement of the diet is necessary and due time must be given for the digestion of the meal.

You will find that Burdock Blood Bitters will help with this digestion. It does this by toning up the stomach in such a way that the dyspepsia soon disappears.

Mr. Robt. Baldwin, Winnifred, Alta., writes: "I cannot speak too highly of Burdock Blood Bitters for curing dyspepsia, of which I have been a sufferer for years. I have tried a good many doctors and proprietary medicines, so one day I thought I would try something different. I got a bottle of B.B.B. from our local store, as it was about the only remedy he kept, and I can certainly say that it was more than pleased with the results, as I got better right away. I will always recommend it to other sufferers."

Alexander, with a group of Oriental Dancers, in his all new Show of Wonders, at Royal Victoria Theatre throughout this week.

Man "Who Knows," when interrogated as to his opinion regarding the numerous skeptics that go to make up a goodly portion of his audience. "It is these 'doubting Thomases' that I love to convince," continued Mr. Alexander. "Needless to mention, they come to the theatre with the idea paramount in their biased minds that my work can all be explained by some form of trickery, that what I claim and demonstrate at each performance is impossible. Hence, the great philosopher, has said, 'To a mind not influenced by popular prejudice, it would be scarcely possible to believe that apparitions would have been vouchered for in all countries had they never been seen in any. And he who outdote of pure mathematics pronounces the word 'impossible' without first a thorough knowledge of the matter involved and a thorough investigation from all angles, lacks prudence and proves himself to be the thinking world a fool." It is a notable fact that Alexander, who will bring his all-new show of wonders to the Royal Victoria for six days, commencing to-night, June 16, disclaims any connection with the supernatural in any manner whatsoever. The Alexander attraction this season is said by the press of Seattle, where the company has been playing to capacity houses at the Metropolitan theatre, to be the greatest mystery organization ever on tour. During the Victoria engagement a special matinee for the ladies only will be given on Friday, and a general matinee on Saturday.

STORY OF BULLION TOLD IN PICTURES

Romano Presents Edith Storey in "Treasure of the Sea"

An exciting quest for gold, which was lost when a treasure ship went down, comes into the plot of the Metro All-Star Series picture "Treasure of the Sea," which will show Edith Storey in an ideal role at the Romano, to-day, Tuesday and Wednesday. The heroine, in the person of Miss Storey, stumbles across the wreck of an ancient merchant ship laden with gold bullion, which had gone down in a storm with the loss of all hands and which the incoming tide had finally cast up on the sand. With the passage of years the skeleton of the valiant trader had settled deep, and succumbing storms had buried its rotted ribs and worm-eaten keel under tons of sand. By a freakish prank, a hurricane, sweeping over the burial place of the ship, blows the sand away, causing the grave of the wreck to yield up the giant carcass, with its golden cargo. How the heroine and hero of "Treasure of the Sea" battle for the gold and the question as to who wins the treasure is revealed in scenes which make this picture an exceptionally fine entertainment.

"Treasure of the Sea" displays Miss Storey's best abilities, both as an actress and sportswoman. Teeming with action and replete with situations of gripping intensity, this production is an ideal vehicle for Miss Storey. The heroine patches her wits against those of strong men and wins in a thrilling quest for gold given up by the sea aboard the wreck of an old merchant trader.

The cast for "Treasure of the Sea," numbers the following players: Margaret Elkins, Edith Storey; Jim Hardwick, Lew Cody; Henry Ames, Lewis Willoughby; Thomas Elkins, Margaret's father, Josef Swickard; Harris, William De Vaul; Manuel, the half-breed, Toto De Crow.

"Did you move on the first of May?" "No. But we had the same effect. The wife started house-cleaning and the landlord, raised the rent."

Fameo Kajiyama Performs Sensational Feats of Concentration

Anderson's Krazy Kats is a girl-and-music show, away above the average as the big act on the new bill of Pantages vaudeville which opened with the matinee performance this afternoon. The act introduces a lot of pretty girls, bright costumes, fast action and good variety. The offering is under the direction of Charles Anderson, the well known Eastern producer. The songs are snappy and tuneful, the dances are of the fast, jazzy kind that make a desire for more, the many changes of costume are somewhat sensational and the settings and effects are masterpieces of the craft.

Fameo Kajiyama, the Japanese mental marvel, gives the audience a real thrill without any trickery with his exhibition of concentration as applied to feats of handwriting on a huge blackboard. He writes backward and upside down, headlines from a newspaper, telling a story at the same time. He repeats this while reciting witty proverbs, beginning with any letter the audience calls.

He stops at intervals where a special test is called for and finishes his act with a sensational feat in which he asks the audience to select five words of seven letters each. He writes these on a small board and then writes them together on the large one, some upside down, some backward and regular fashion without missing a letter or mispacing one. His act is a novelty and he has the field to himself.

Boys who sing their own songs are apt to be a drag on the market, but Clyde Hager and Walter Goodwin do it without egotism and are legitimate entertainers who "stop the show" on the merits of their offering. Most of their songs are their own, including "That Wonderful Mother of Mine." Good comedy is introduced effectively. Cecilia Rhoda and George Crampton have a high class singing act which they call "Aspiration." They open with a studio set and feature a scene from "Aida," ending with a popular rag number. Both have good voices and pleasing appearance.

Faye and Jack Smith play the piano a little, quarrel a little, sing a bit and chatter considerably. The audiences like their turn.

Helen Jackley, a Venus of the big top, lives up to her billing as the sensational girl, with her work as an aerialist and her spectacular tumbles from high perches to a table, landing on her hands.

The fifth episode of "The Man of Might" makes a very interesting introduction to the vaudeville portion of the programme.

"PAID IN FULL" HAS RETAINED REPUTATION

Popular Film Will Occupy
Dominion Theatre All
Week

When Eugene Walter's play "Paid in Full" was produced by Wagenhals & Kemper in New York in 1907, it created a great sensation. Its reception by the public was phenomenal and after running a season or more, it was played simultaneously by several companies on tour. This play has been picture-ized by Paramount for Pauline Frederick and will be displayed at the Dominion theatre this week.

Miss Frederick has the role of the patient wife of a shiftless clerk whose non-progressive-ness keeps her in constant poverty. When he commits a theft the husband does not hesitate to send his wife to the man who has despoiled her, caring little whether she sacrifices her honor to save him from jail. But she finally adjusts the matter and when she quits him forever, he betrays his cowardice by committing suicide. But the wife ultimately finds happiness in the love of a worthy man.

The support is excellent and the cast includes Robert Cain, Wypdham Standing, Frank Lusse, Jane Farrell and Vera Heresford. The picture was directed by Emile Chautard.

"MICKEY" TO AMUSE VARIETY AUDIENCES

Asset of Humor in Life Is Illustrated in Film

The great asset a sense of humor is to life, through every hardship and suffering, joy and sorrow, is wonderfully illustrated in the famous photoplay "Mickey," to be shown at the Variety this week. In Bleeding France, in England, Belgium—in fact, in all Europe, they have borne their burdens because they can grin, too. Their newspapers can even joke about the gravest hardships.

Mickey, a lonely wail, with all circumstances against her, proves that her endurance triumphs only because it is supported by her own natural appreciation of the humor of situations. She knows how to separate the petty from the really big things in life, and how to laugh away the small while accomplishing the great things. Mickey graphically shows that she has learned, even under the most strenuous trials, to see the humor of it all, and to laugh genuinely—the greatest weapon against defeat.

Mickey is a mischievous little girl, bubbling over with a sunshine and joy that is contagious. She is weighed down with cruelties that might have broken and scarred many, but she knows how to laugh through her tears. She is continually looking for something funny in every situation. Just as Pollyanna looks for something to be glad about even in the worst predicaments.

Mickey and Pollyanna, however, illustrate two distinct types of philosophy. Mickey keeps advancing, she is never just satisfied and content with things as they are. Yet she is always smiling and happy with the very joy of just smiling.

BILLY OSWALD'S FOLLIES PROVIDE
FINE PROGRAMME

Commencing to-day, Billy Oswald's 1919 Follies at the Gorge Park provides a programme that would be hard to duplicate. It includes songs from musical comedies, concerted numbers, song and duet features, and on Wednesday an additional attraction—a humorous sketch entitled "Kiss Mama." This sketch is a bright, snappy performance and will no doubt please the ever increasing number of people who at the present time are making the Gorge Park their headquarters for this class of entertainment. The programme for this week is as follows:

Concerted Numbers—"You Said Something When You Said You Loved Me," from "Have a Heart," "In Your Old Sunbonnet," Miss Brown from "Catch of the Season."
Humorous Interludes—"The Poor Little Rich Girl," "Easy Money," featuring Billy Oswald and Ernie Impett.
Song and Duet Features—"If You Were the Only Girl in the World" from the "Bing Boys" sung by Beatrice Carmen and Billy Oswald, "My Laddie," Dorothy Ferry, "Little French Mother of Mine," George Norman, "Beauty of the Guards," (by the request of many patrons) Billy Oswald, "Bells of St. Malo," Beatrice Carmen, "Sausage Girl," Ernie Impett, "I'm Going to Settle Down," Sherry Pace, "Little Miss Importance," Ruth McKinley.

GOLDWYN PICTURES CO.
BUYS TRIANGLE STUDIOS

The Goldwyn Pictures Corporation, in preparation for production intended to surpass every mark previously set, has purchased the largest motion picture studios in America.

The Goldwyn Company has had the Triangle Studios at Culver City, California, under lease since November, 1918. Their purchase has just been announced. The transaction, which is said to have been an outright cash transfer, is one of the largest of its kind ever put on record in the motion picture industry.

The Triangle studios, now passing into the hands of the Goldwyn company, were built and equipped at a cost of more than a million dollars. They cover a forty-acre tract of hills, valleys, plains and woodland, giving every known variety of scenic background to picture directors. The buildings and equipment, including two complete miniature theatres and six huge production stages, comprise the most elaborate establishment devoted to motion pictures in the world. Since the studios were first leased the Goldwyn company has made all of its productions there and now has eight companies at work.

CITY WILL BECOME THE HEADQUARTERS

One Company of Proposed Machine-gun Brigade for Victoria

Victoria will be headquarters of the Eleventh Machine Gun Brigade. With the Canadian corps in France there were four machine-gun battalions, one with each division. Now there will be a machine-gun brigade in each military district in Canada, in addition to the Motor Machine-gun Brigade has been allotted. It will consist of headquarters and three companies and will be distributed as follows: Headquarters and one company, Victoria; one company New Westminster; one company at Fernie. The militia establishment for a machine-gun brigade as laid down consists of forty officers and 472 other ranks, with seventy-two Vickers guns. Their transport comprises eighteen G. S. wagons, thirty-six light draft horses. It is understood that all equipment will be provided and is on the way. Incidentally it may be noted that the armored cars of the Motor Machine-gun Brigade, shipped from Calais when the brigade left France, are on their way to the Coast. The new establishment of the motor brigade now calls for twenty-five motorcycles and 20-30 hundredweight lorries, all of which will be forthcoming. No staff has been appointed for the brigade allotted to M. D. 11 as yet, but an announcement may be expected very shortly as to the commanding officer and adjutant. All former machine-gunners who are interested in the infantry machine-gun brigade to be formed are asked to communicate with Lieut.-Col. W. K. Walker, D. S. O., M. C., who has recently been appointed machine-gun officer of this district, at headquarters M. D. 11, here. To Colonel Walker is entrusted the preliminary organization work in this district and he is in a position to give all information. Headquarters of the 2nd Motor Machine-gun Brigade is established in Vancouver. It has now been decided to establish the five companies of the brigade as follows: Headquarters and two batteries, Vancouver; one battery Dawson City; one battery Nelson; one battery Kelowna. The 1st Motor Machine-gun Brigade was mobilized at Montreal and its headquarters are now there.

HISTORIC EVENTS ALIVE IN SPACE

Battle of Hastings, Building of Pyramids, Primeval Phenomena Born on Light Waves

William of Normandy is still to be seen fighting the Saxon King Harold for the possession of England; the minions of the Pharaohs are still to be observed building the Pyramids; even the primeval man has not yet ceased to roam the earth, fighting his slow way up from savagery. Ancient as these things are, they are still alive and vital—somewhere in space; light rays are eternal, and they carry the picture of everything that ever was on and on forever. The speed of light traveling through space is 186,000 miles a second. Get out your pencil, paper, and ruler, and you will find that in a year light travels about 6,000,000,000 miles. That is a light-year, the measure of astronomical space. The sun is nearly 100,000,000 miles away from the earth, hence light travels from our source of life to us in about eight minutes. But pick your way outside of the solar system and it is a matter not of minutes, but of light-years, when you speak of the time required for the passage of light. The nearest star to us is the first-magnitude giant of the southern skies, Alpha Centauri. Between that star and the earth four years are required for the passage. Polaris, another of our comparatively near neighbors, being 116 light-years away, it takes light that many years to come to us from the scintillating north pole; hence, as we gaze at Polaris, Dr. C. S. Brainin of Columbia University points out in a recent exposition of the distances of space: "We really get on our retina the light which left Polaris that many years ago; and we see it as it was then, not as it is now, at the moment of observation. A star might suffer some cosmic catastrophe, such as a collision with another star, in the case of Polaris we would not know of it until 116 years after its occurrence."

Reversal of the Case. The stars being at different distances from us, we see one star as it was approximately 100 years ago, another as it was 1,500 years ago, and so on. Of course, the case can be reversed. Suppose Polaris, which on the whole is a body something like our sun, has an attendant planet upon which there live inhabitants whose science is so developed that they possess instruments so powerful that they can see, not only the earth, but also what goes on upon this planet. They would know nothing of the great war, nothing of the earth's present activities, for they would be getting the light which left us 116 years ago, hence they would be watching the events of 1803.

"On a possible planet of Alpha Centauri the inhabitants would be seeing the earth's events of 1915, while an inhabitant of a possible Pleiades system would see the inhabitants of the earth making history as far back as about 1200. Some planetarian 'out in space' may be at this moment watching the arrival of William the Conqueror in England, and another somewhere may even be seeing the Missing Link roaming the earth. It is merely a question of sufficiently sensitive instruments, for a continuous reel of pictures leaves the earth and travels through space, suffering only a diminution of brightness. So far, Dr. Brainin points out, the distance of only an exceedingly small number of the many celestial bodies have been measured, for the difficulty is very great in the case of those which are not fairly close astronomically speaking, and the direct trigonometric or surveying methods cannot be used; indirect methods are relied upon to give some conception of the distance, even if not a really accurate one. It is the case, of course, with one of the most distant of the celestial bodies, the star cluster N. G. C. 7,096, whose distance is more than 700,000 light-years and with the famous cluster in Heracles, probably about 36,000 light-years away. "The ancients, without any optical aids and with only the naked eye," says this Columbia astronomer, "made a change in the relative positions of the stars. They called them therefore 'fixed' stars, and this name still sticks to-day, although if we know one thing about them with great certainty it is that they are not fixed. With the telescope and the spectroscopic astronomers have measured the speed and direction of motion of a tremendous number of stars. These investigations have revealed to them the chances which the aspect of the heavens will undergo in the course of centuries. For example, one of our favorites, the Great Dipper, will be entirely unrecognizable as such in some 20,000 years. Like Molecules of a Gas. "On the other hand, many stars, some quite far apart in the heavens as seen by us, are found to be related members of a single family through the possession of motion having similar direction and velocities. We have learned also that our sun, as may well be expected, partakes of this general motion of the stars and, with its planetary system, is moving in the general direction of Vega's present position with a velocity of about twelve miles a second. Still further, it has been found that there are several streams of stars moving in opposite directions through space, each member of a stream moving in the same direction. "The motions of the stars are viewed as akin to the motions of the molecules of a gas; they move in a direction determined by the power of gravitational attraction alone until something happens to change it, a collision with a fellow-star, for instance, whereupon they assume a new path. A gas this happens millions of times a second, but among the stars, according to calculation, it may be expected only once in a million years, for in spite of the large number of stars, they are very far apart. "On any fine night you can see the remarkable belt of stars called the Galaxy, or Milky Way, stretching from horizon to horizon. It is remarkable that the number of stars gathered here should be so extremely great, compared with other portions of the sky. Suppose the visible stars occupy a finite, although very large, volume of space; they are pretty evenly spread throughout this volume, which has a shape like a book, or, say like a millstone, that is, much thinner in one direction than in the other two. If we are in the centre of such a 'block' of space and look out along the direction of the thinner dimension, we would see fewer stars than if we looked through the thicker part, where we are further from the

FREE PORTS ON THE PACIFIC SEABOARD

What Is Proposed Outlined by Dutch Professor at Seattle

The position of free ports on the Pacific has been recently considered by Professor de Haas. The Professor spoke last week before the Pacific Trade and Foreign Trade Clubs of Seattle, leaving Saturday to take up a position with the University of Rotterdam, Netherlands. Although not specifically stated in the proposed act it is understood in Washington, D.C., that four ports shall have free zones on the Atlantic coast and two upon the Pacific, of which latter one shall be San Francisco, leaving the second to be determined later upon application or judgment. The Free Port Idea. The speaker drew attention to the wonderful growth of Hamburg as a free port. In a generation, Prof. Haas asserted Hamburg had increased 400 per cent, as against the general increase in Germany of 40 per cent. Part of this had been due to the general migration cityward, but more to the facilities afforded by a free port rather than a customs port. So much business is attracted by free ports that they serve as a sort of perennial trade fairs. What trade fairs mean in the promotion of foreign trade was shown by that of Lyons last year when $14,000,000 worth of business was transacted by that town during the fair. Utrecht, Leipzig and Nijni Novgorod are similar examples. Owing to the removal of customs restrictions with free zones of certain ports set aside manufacturing is promoted and a wealth of material for export and for eventual import is gathered and therefore the material for a fair is constantly present. Movement is Widespread. With Hamburg must be reckoned Bremen, Lubek and Stettin, while Danzig has recently been added to the list. Copenhagen and Helsingfors have also recently been established. So likewise Cadiz, Fiume and Trieste. Under the general usages of a free port goods are freely landed without the intervention of a customs officer and there is no delay. Thus in Hamburg the pilot boarding the incoming vessel hoists the customs flag, which is all the formality required, as the vessel is then taken straight to a dock within the free zone and hatches are removed with the tying up to the wharf. Not only is this the case but goods may be landed, manufactured within outer surface. All around the sky in the direction of the Milky Way we are looking through what is probably the thicker dimension of the volume of space occupied by our neighboring stellar matter. "But what about the globular star clusters, distant aggregates of immense stars? Are they within our star system, or do they form separate galaxies of their own? Is the universe a single entity, or are there several, even many, subdivisions? These are questions for the future. All the stars which you see twinkling in the sky belong to the same galaxy as the sun, but there is nothing to contradict the possibility of the existence of other galaxies, co-equal with ours, and fellow-members in a system of super-galaxies, themselves minute divisions of the universe."

STRANGE. She—My sister is a character woman in the movies. She always takes the part of the village gossip. He—In the silent drama? Gerald—I am going to print a kiss on your lips. Geraldine—You are a regular printer's devil.

Why Can't I Get to Sleep Thousands of people all over the country ask this question, but still continue to toss night after night on a sleepless bed, and it is impossible for them to get a full night's refreshing sleep. Some constitutional disturbance, worry or disease has so debilitated and irritated the nervous system that it cannot be quietened except by the perniculous use of opiates or narcotics. Or, again, you have heart palpitation and sensation of sinking, a feeling you are going to die, or perhaps you wake up in your sleep feeling as though you were about to choke or smother, and the only way you can get relief is to sit up in bed. To all who suffer in this way, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills offer an inestimable boon. They bring back the much-needed night's rest by improving the tone of the nerves, strengthen the heart, enriching the blood and making the whole organization act in harmony—then you sleep as peacefully as a child. Mrs. Jas. Latimer, 39 Leinster St., St. John, N.B., writes:—"At night I could not sleep. I had to sit up in bed, my heart beat so fast, and when I walked up stairs I would get all out of breath. A friend recommended Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and after using two boxes I can sleep all night and am not out of breath after walking."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

the free zone and re-exported as finished products without customs restrictions. Or the goods as brought in, either for import or export and may be broken up into more advantageous packages, again without customs intervention. Import and Export. One of the obstacles to foreign trade Prof. de Haas explained, is the necessity of providing for return cargoes. The facilities afforded by a free port go far towards removing this impediment. Moreover, the saving of time and of money effected aid considerably in enabling the American merchant to meet the keen competition which he may expect to meet all over the world. This competition in foreign markets will be all the sharper if, as expected, the present congress raises the tariff, thereby barring the entry of foreign goods into this country to pay the debts owed, debts that cannot be met with gold as there is not the gold existing wherewith they may be met. Thus the foreign competitor must meet more than successfully American goods in third countries in order that he may earn enough to meet his obligations in the United States. Four Requisites Demanded. Under the Act now before Congress four essentials are necessary before a petitioning city may hope to be included in the free port list. The first is that proper facilities must be shown to exist to handle cargoes within the proposed free zone, that the free zone may be properly guarded with ease, that the free zone may be easily extended and that there shall exist railways of access without discriminatory switching charges so as to serve the whole country as well as the immediate port. Thus the city may apply under any public corporation, such as the municipality, the port commission, the chamber of commerce or under a commission especially appointed or elected to take care of the new department. This commission, or public body, would be given the right of eminent domain so as to be able to expropriate any land necessary within the free zone with the exception of commission or customs officials. SMOOTH WORK. "How did Hincks manage to reform that nagging wife of his?" "Bribed her masseuse to tell her that talk caused wrinkles." Milk jugs and basins should always be rinsed in cold water before being washed in hot. Hot water used first sets the curd, and the surface is not so easily cleaned.

GIRLS IN SPORTS AT ST. MARGARET'S

Aileen Stewart Williams Wins Senior Championship Cup For School

Attended by many friends and parents of the scholars, the annual sports of St. Margaret's School took place Saturday on the spacious well kept tennis court in the school grounds.

Two new records were made by St. Margaret's Schools girls during the holding of the sports on Saturday afternoon, when Patsie Heming improved the Junior Girls' long jump three inches, and Ada Algar decreased by one second the time for the 100 yards.

Colonel the Rev. G. H. Andrews presented the prizes, and among the most popular recipients was Aileen Stewart Williams, who received the Senior championship cup for the school.

The following is the prize list: Hundred yards, senior: 1, Evelyn Grey; 2, Aileen Stewart Williams.

Three-legged race, senior: 1, Marian Bullock Webster and Elsie Taylor; 2, Mona Graham and Evelyn Grey.

Long jump, senior: 1, Maisie Evans; 2, Christine Watson.

Quarter-mile race, senior: 1, Evelyn Grey; 2, Aileen Stewart Williams.

High jump, senior: 1, Aileen Stewart Williams; 2, Maisie Evans.

Obstacle race, junior: 1, Kathleen Watt; 2, Ada Algar.

Cricket ball, senior: 1, Betty Grey; 1, Margaret MacNeil.

Egg and spoon race, senior: 1, Gertrude Bryant; 2, Evelyn Grey.

Three-legged race, junior: 1, Ada Algar and Naomi Goodacre; 2, Kathleen Watt and Mary Cross.

SERGEANT MUST GO TO BEAT LOCAL MAN

J. B. A. A. Oarsmen Training Hard for Inter-City Competition

The first meeting of the newly elected management committee of the J. B. A. A. will be held at the clubhouse tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock, when a full attendance is requested.

Preparations are in full swing for the Citizens' Carnival at the George on Dominion Day, and the J. B. A. A. oarsmen are training hard to get in the best of shape when they meet their rivals from Vancouver.

The "Big Four" No 3 under the direction of stroke, Wickson, is developing into a very speedy quartette, and a great race is expected against Hughes' four.

Champion Billy Kennedy is training faithfully, and Sargent will have to beat an exceptionally fast pace to beat him.

VICTORIA WEST TAKES GAME FROM SIDNEY

Another Hard Lacrosse Battle, Tied for Two Periods Ends Five to Three

The meeting between Sidney and Ed Popham's stickhandlers from Victoria West in the second of the intermediate lacrosse series saw another hard fight for supremacy.

The home players opened the score with a shot by Robertson soon after the game started.

McClure again proved himself the boy to equalize by getting one in each of the remaining periods through Gus Robertson and Charlie Brown, respectively the Victoria team took the lead, and resisted all the home team's desperate efforts to even up the play.

Fairall had a busy time between the sticks, but he gave a great exhibition of goal tending.

Salmonbellies Beaten

Vancouver Terminal defeated the New Westminster Salmonbellies in the second game of the 1919 Coast Lacrosse championship series at Vancouver Athletic Park Saturday, by four goals to nothing.

Dave Gibbons in goal was mainly responsible for the shutout administered to the champions.

Gibbons stopped at least twice as many shots as Bun Clark, who was also in the limelight on several occasions with sensational stops.

The games are being played under the new rules, ten men a side, smaller field, substitutions allowed, and with a deferred penalty system. The fans like this better than the old system.

St. Griffis, of hockey fame, was the referee.

Indians Celebrate

Montreal, June 15.—Caughnawaga Indians celebrated their return to senior lacrosse ranks, after several years' absence, on Saturday afternoon by a victory over the Nationals, the score reading ten to six, at the termination of full time.

The Indians showed themselves to be fast and clever, well able to hold up the remarkable reputation of their forefathers.

BOTH GAMES WENT TO FOUNDATION NINE

Beat Canadian Collieries and Straith-Two Jacks in Double-Header

The Foundation Nine improved their lead in the city amateur baseball league race yesterday by taking both games in the double-header at Royal Athletic Park. Carne, the new man in the box for the Collieries, helped Manager McFarlane to live up to his promise of fielding a team that would look like a new aggregation, and all his men failed to get the points Saturday, they look like making a good showing for the rest of the season.

Babe Fortin pitched for Straith-Two Jacks but the hard hitting shipbuilders put a stop to his winning streak. Box scores:

SATURDAY'S PLAY IN CITY CRICKET LEAGUE

Victoria, Incogs, Albion and Foundation Ramblers Got Points

Victoria beat Wanderers by 76 runs. Incogs beat Congos by 170 runs. Albion beat Christ Church by 9 wickets.

Ramblers beat Five C's by 8 runs. Victoria, Incogs, Albion and the Ramblers bagged the points in the Victoria and District Cricket League Saturday, the Foundation Ramblers and the Five C's providing the most interesting game of the day at the Jubilee grounds. The game was decided on the first innings in which the Ramblers headed the Five C's total by eight runs.

LACROSSE SCHEDULE FOR MINTO CUP GAMES New Westminster and Foundation Stickhandlers Clash Saturday In the schedule of the Mann Cup series which has just been drawn up, New Westminster and the Foundation stickhandlers of Victoria are due to clash at Royal Athletic Park, Victoria, Saturday in the Victoria team's second battle in the series.

Westminster evened it up shortly afterwards, but Grey put the V.A.C. in the lead shortly before time. Westminster took a big lead in the second period, when Oddy registered and Storme broke through for three straight goals. In the third session Pentland tallied once for the Royals, while Gill and Johnson secured one each for the V.A.C. The Vancouver lads put up a plucky fight, and in the fourth period Gilmore registered one more, but Westminster came right back with two. The last goal of the game was scored by Johnson for the V.A.C.

THE CARPENTERS' STRIKE VOTE. To the Editor.—On June 1 the Carpenters' Union of this city met at the Labor Hall and took a vote on the sympathetic strike question. The meeting was a summons meeting according to the constitution of the Union and over a thousand voted. Although the Trades and Labor Council had the counting of the ballots some days later, for some reason the result of that vote has never been given out. Although the Trades and Labor Council for some unconstitutional reasons, decided that the "Reds" were a strike that did not return a vote favorable to a strike were requested to take another vote. The carpenters met yesterday in the Columbia Theatre. The meeting was not a properly summoned one as called for by the constitution of the Union. A few posters were all the notice given. It is true, it was mentioned in the daily papers, but according to the "Reds" who are dictating to the Union men of Victoria, we are not supposed to read those papers nor to believe any statement they make. The meeting was held down an objection on the constitutionality of the meeting and proceeded to take the vote, which resulted in a majority of twenty-one in favor of a strike. The total vote was 442 according to the "Reds," who are counting the vote of the 1,600 members. The lack of attendance was due to the fact that the members were not notified as the constitution of the Union requires. The significant fact, however, is that the full vote of the Union (1,600) is counted at the Labor Hall as favoring a strike. About fifteen years ago the "Reds" became very active in the "Union" in British Columbia, and I well remember a remark a prominent "Red" made to me at that time to the effect that the "Reds" had no use for unions, but that unions afforded a good field for their propaganda. The result is apparent to-day. The "Reds" are in full charge, as instanced by what happened Sunday at the Columbia Theatre meeting. The "Reds" are the constitution of the Union, the only safeguard we had. They are prepared to defy International Headquarters, and as one speaker remarked, "To him with charters." The Winnipeg trouble which finished "Der Tag" for the "Reds," and collective bargaining is only a camouflage. What union principles prompt a man to break his agreement with his employer to force a like agreement upon another? I do not wish the public to think that "Reds" are in a majority. They are rather a small minority, but unfortunately are in control of the Union at present. N. MacGILLIVRAY.

LADIES' GOLF MATCH FOR NORTHWEST MEET The ladies' golf match which was to have been played Thursday at the Seattle Golf Club between the Canadian and American teams from Seattle, Tacoma, Victoria and Vancouver, has been called off on account of the strike in the Canadian cities, and will be played at a later date, after the Northwest tournament in Spokane. HONEST. "Is he honest?" "Scrupulously so. He told the government exactly what his income was and he doesn't tell his friends that his tax is larger than it really is."

NOVELISTS' HANDWRITING. Those who have read and admired the polished sentences of G. K. Chesterton, the famous novelist, would receive a rude shock if they could see the article or poem they admitted in its manuscript form. For the handwriting of the famous G. K. is scarcely commensurate with his other abilities. His manuscript or "copy," as it is called, is very difficult to read, and there is scarcely another author whose places as much reliance in his printers. The direct opposite of this was Charles Dickens, who, though he never employed a typewriter, was able to boast that of the authors of his time he made fewest corrections on a printer's proof. This is more remarkable because Dickens was the most prolific writer of his day. But always the H. G. Wells, Rudyard Kipling, Arnold Bennett, and Sir Conan Doyle are four present-day writers who recognize the value of good copy, and they practise accordingly. Mr. W. W. Jacobs also turns out neat copy. This well-known comedy writer of the sea has all his literary work typed out, and makes but few corrections on the finished manuscript. One never knows what to expect in the way of copy from that fine imaginative writer, H. de Vere Stacpole. Sometimes it is typed out on best quality paper, sometimes written on sheets torn from a copy-book. But always the "stuff" is there—which means in plain English that the author of "The Blue Lagoon" knows how to fascinate his readers. A liniment for sprains is made from a quart of pure cider vinegar, about half as much turpentine, and two eggs; add the eggs and turpentine to the vinegar, and let it stand for twelve hours, when it will be ready for use.

VERSAILLES Historic Meeting Place of Peace-makers. By G. H. Ferris in The London Daily Chronicle. Versailles and its palaces stand in relation to Paris much as Richmond and Hampton Court do to London, with St. Cloud Park between, on the Seine, for Sèvres beside the Thames. But what difference between the two is a lovely epitome of our island peace and the rich homeliness of its older rule. Versailles sums up a quite other, alien thing—glory; and now in a day or two will be added, as postscripts, the world's judgment upon an era that is finished and done with. In 1624, Louis XIII set up a hunting lodge in a little known village between thick, towering woods and river marshes, twelve miles west of the capital. For forty years it remained a simple country house. Then the "Sun King," Louis XIV, commenced the riot of building, embellishment, gardening and entertainment, which was to drain away much of the wealth of France. In 1682, when Versailles became the official seat of the Government, the little chateau had spread out on three sides, with the magnificent staircases reaching the separate apartments of the King and Queen, these being decorated with rare marbles and wall paintings. The great south wing was finished, the north wing not begun, the Hall of Mirrors nearly complete. Now a draughty and uncomfortable, though imposing gallery, 236 ft. long and 42 ft. wide, it was then much more splendid, with seven long great mirrors facing as many windows, its ceiling paneling hung with metal trophies, marble pillars with bases and capitals of gilded bronze, Savonnerie carpets, damask curtains, sparkling candelabras and chandeliers, benches, stools, and, over all, Le Brun's ceiling picturing the triumphs of the great King. An Orgy of Extravagance. Toward the end of that decade 30,000 men were employed on the buildings and the park, and the permanent population of the palace and its dependencies numbered 10,000. Accidents of the workmen were numerous; Mme. de Sevigne says that carefully of dead or injured men were constantly being taken away. The garden and water festivals, for which Moliere wrote the "Festivals," composed of which Mme. de Vallieres, Mme. de Montespan, and other favorites down to the Pompadour, were the bright particular stars, reached a more and more prodigious scale as the terraces, alleys and hedges were extended and the lesser pavilions multiplied. At one time the King could boast of having 1,400 fountains playing and 2,000 trees in the orange—A problem comparable with that of the nation's finances was the Versailles water supply. It was at last, imperfectly solved by the famous machinery at Marly—the fourteen enormous waterwheels working over 200 paces, by which Seine water was raised 600 feet, by a series of stages, to a vast reservoir. The supply being still insufficient, 30,000 troops were engaged to build a long canal and aqueduct to the River Eure; but these works were not finished. He had been reckoned that in fifty years the equivalent of $16,000,000 was spent on Versailles, the Trianon and lesser palaces, and that the lives of thousands of laborers were sacrificed, while the Royal Majesty was being honored, as was told, in "the great event of the day's ceremonial, the presentation of the shirt." The Lesser Palaces. At the further end of the Versailles grounds visitors find the two lesser palaces of Marie Antoinette, and near them a top village, where she and her friends affected the "return to Nature," according to Rousseau. It is bordered still by the high park wall and broad moat designed against prying democratic eyes on the neighboring road. How easily one imagines the denouement, the episode of the diamond necklace, the guards' banquet on October 1, 1789; and, four days later, the arrival of the Paris mob and the flight of the Royal Family. In 1793 the Committee of Public Safety decreed that the palace should be transformed into a museum and library; and, though the revolutionists sold thousands of pictures and pieces of furniture, this decree has substantially stood. Versailles had slept away all its

CHARMER SUCCEEDS MARY IN SERVICE

Commenced Sailings Between Nanaimo and Vancouver This Morning

Replacing the Princess Mary the Charmer has been placed on the run between Nanaimo and Vancouver. The Charmer, which since the declaration of the seamen's strike has been completely overhauled here, left yesterday for Nanaimo and cleared the latter port at 3.30 this morning for Vancouver.

She will operate on the same schedule, and will make the round trip daily with the exception of Sundays. On being withdrawn from the trans-Gulf run the Princess Mary returned to this port, and is at present tied up at the Belleville Street wharves.

With all her accommodation taken up the Princess Alice left Vancouver at midnight on Saturday for Skagway via Prince Rupert. "Standing room only" was the sign hung out when this vessel got away for the North.

The impression is gaining ground on the waterfront that the seamen's strike is anything but unanimous, and this is borne out by the fact that a number of men have already resumed their duties on the boats plying out of this port.

A large percentage of the men who walked off the boats when the strike was called are beginning to wonder just why they were ordered out, and are asking pertinent questions as to the object of the strike.

OTTAWA WILL BE LAUNCHED TO-NIGHT

Eighth French Ship to Slide From Point Ellice Yard at 8.30 o'Clock

The hull in ocean shipping will be broken to-morrow with the arrival of the Blue Funnel liner Cyclops from the Far East.

Duncan Cameron, local agent for Dodwell & Co., announced this morning that the Cyclops would arrive at William Head at 8 o'clock to-morrow morning from Yokohama. It is anticipated that the Blue Funnel ship will make her berth at the Outer Docks about an hour after her arrival in quarantine.

It is not known what attitude will be adopted by the local shoremen with regard to the handling of the Cyclops cargo, but in any event it is not likely that any great difficulty will be experienced in discharging as the shipments for this port are not extensive.

From here the Cyclops will proceed to Seattle and unless there is a change in the strike situation on the mainland it is not improbable that the Vancouver freight will be unloaded on Puget Sound.

The Cyclops is bringing in a full cargo from ports in the Orient the bulk of which is for discharge at Seattle. Her cargo includes large shipments of tea and silk.

Africa on Wednesday. Although no word has been received by the local agents, R. P. Rithet & Co. of the arrival of the Osaka Shosen Kaisha liner Africa Maru, the inbound wife and the woman, who wishes to enjoy the pleasures of life should spare no effort to maintain perfect health.

Is your daughter growing up strong and ruddy? Has she strength to drink in greedily all the pleasures that youth so zealously seeks—or is she compelled to use the street car instead of enjoying the delightful exercise of walking—does she after the ball arise refreshed and vigorous, or is she exhausted, indifferent and perhaps irritable?

When strength and vigor can be so easily maintained by Ferrazone, when the glow of health is so quickly brought to the cheeks and elasticity to the step, it is plainly a mother's duty to see that Ferrazone is on hand to assist her daughter back to health.

Upon the wake of Ferrazone quickly follows a stream of rich, nourishing blood which imparts that power and surplus energy so earnestly desired by those in ill-health.

Every growing girl and young woman derives enormous benefit in many ways from this nutritive vitalizing tonic. It is especially suited for young women and is a guarantee of health and regularity as long as it is used.

Ferrazone is free from alcohol and perfectly safe to use. Prepared in the form of a chocolate-coated tablet and sold in 50c. boxes or six for $2.50, at all dealers, or direct from The Catarrh-ome Co., Kingston, Ont.

SALE OF AMERICAN TONNAGE IS URGED

U. S. Shipping Board Recommends That Government Quit Building Boats

Washington, D. C., June 16.—Recommendations of the government quit building and operating commercial ships at the earliest time practicable were presented to the Senate Commerce Committee Thursday by the Shipping Board.

Sale of all commercial ships was recommended. Vessels which could not be disposed of immediately would be leased.

In explanation of the "world market price" the board said that the value of tonnage was high with the tendency for that level to continue.

"Most of the world's fleets were built before the war and during the first two years of the war," the board's communication said. "They have been driven hard and they are heavily depreciated. Their periods of illness while undergoing repairs are long and will become longer in a short time the mortality among them will be very great."

"Practically the only ships now free from these handicaps are the ships built by the Shipping Board and because the trade of the world must be carried by some one at some price, it seems reasonable that the demand for ships which can be operated with certainty and economy should keep the market price of such ships at a high, rather than a low figure throughout the now visible future."

Development of a privately owned American marine under the government was proposed by the board, advocating that legislation be enacted requiring insurance be carried with American companies. The government American marine under the government when it quits the ship business. Wireless sets would be placed on all vessels, the board recommended that this requirement be enforced by legislation.

To improve the ocean mail service, the board advocated legislation discharging the present bonus system, with the future pay "on the basis of service rendered," the mails, including parcel post, to be carried on all American vessels plying regular routes at a speed of twelve knots or more, every American ship would be required to carry from two to ten cadets for a two-year course with a "living wage" to be paid them by the government.

CYCLOPS WILL MAKE PORT IN MORNING

Blue Funnel Liner Reports Arrival at William Head at 8 o'Clock

Final touches were being put to the wooden hull No. 218 at Point Ellice to-day preparatory to the launching scheduled to take place at 8.30 o'clock to-night. The "Ottawa" will be the eighth vessel to be sent afloat by the Foundation Company since the inauguration of the French contract.

Edward E. Jenkins, assistant Northwest manager of the Foundation Company, will be in charge of the launching arrangements, and Mrs. W. J. Stephens, wife of the local inspector for the Bureau Veritas, will sponsor the ship.

The management desires to make it clear that the general public will be admitted to the Point Ellice yard, and in view of the favorable hour it is expected that there will be a large turn-out to witness the launching.

First Steam Trial. In all probability the first trial in connection with the French contract will take place on Wednesday. The date, however, hinges upon the delivery from Vancouver of boiler casings and mountings which are expected to be on hand to-morrow. In that case, it is stated by Manager Jenkins, Hull 207 will be ready for her steam trial on Wednesday.

MONTEAGLE MAKING FAST PACIFIC RUN

Troopship From Vladivostok May Succeed in Reaching Port To-morrow Night

With the balance of the Canadian-Siberian Expeditionary Force aboard, the C. P. O. S. liner Montague is looked for at this port to-morrow night from Vladivostok. The Montague was in touch with the Estevan station this morning but failed to disclose her position.

Shipping men, however, are of the belief that she will succeed in making port to-morrow. Should the Montague make port to-morrow she will be two days ahead of her schedule.

Aboard her is Major-General Elmsley, who was in command of the Canadian expedition to Siberia, and his military staff.

ATTEMPT TO FLOAT JANET CARRUTHERS

Advantage Will Be Taken of High Tides During Month of June

An attempt will shortly be made to float the stranded British schooner Janet Carruthers which drove ashore near Copalis some months ago, while bound from British Columbia to San Francisco. Preparations are now being made to float the ship on the highest tides of the season towards the latter part of this month. The tug Galena has been chartered by J. H. Price to assist in the salvage operation and tow the vessel to port for repairs. The tug carries two large anchors which will be placed out at sea astern of the stranded vessel, to these will be attached wire cables connected with the donkey engine on the schooner, which will keep a continuous strain on the cables at high tide. Another stranded vessel was similarly floated in the same vicinity some years ago.

The Janet Carruthers was built at the Wallace Shipyard at North Vancouver, being one of six auxiliary sailing schooners built there for the Canada West Coast Navigation Co. Six vessels of the same type were built for the same company by the Cameron Genoa Mills Shipbuilders, Ltd., at Victoria. The wreck of the Janet Carruthers was purchased for $11,000 by J. H. Price, formerly manager of the Cameron Genoa Mills Shipbuilders. The engines, which have been salvaged, are valued at more than the ship purchase price.

If the vessel is successfully salvaged, J. H. Price will make a big thing out of the Janet Carruthers.

TIDE TABLE. June. Table with columns: Time High, Time Low, etc. Rows 4 to 30.

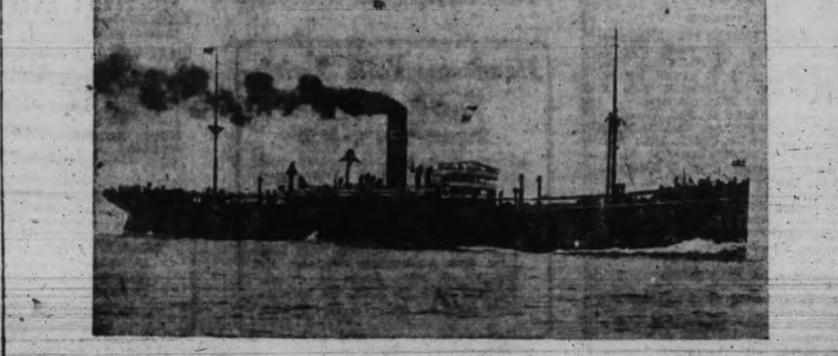

The time used in Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high-water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

Equihalt.—To find the depth of water on the sill of the dry dock at any tide, add 19.8 feet to the height of high water.

CARRYING FULL LISTS. The passenger boats of the Admiral Line are carrying capacity lists to and from California. The figures for height serve to distinguish high-water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

JOINT ACTION TO SECURE RESULTS

Victoria Consumers' League Meets To-night to Discuss Cost of Living

Victoria West and Fowl Bay will join forces with James Bay at to-night's meeting on the cost of living at the Connaught Seaman's Institute. The gathering begins at 8 o'clock, and this will mark the initial cementing of the interests of the three districts, though it is expected that each will retain its separate identity. Though invitations have been sent to Victoria West and Fowl Bay as the two districts already indicating a desire to establish similar bodies, people from other districts who are anxious to form branches of the organization will be heartily welcomed. In view of the importance of the matter to be decided a large attendance is requested by the promoters of the scheme.

Three preliminary meetings have already been held in the Connaught Seaman's Institute at which free discussion and interchange of opinion has been permitted, and much valuable information gathered. It has now been decided to give the organization the name of "The Victoria Consumers' League" and it is anticipated by the promoters that the first body formed in James Bay by St. James' Church will be immediately followed by the formation of branches in every district in the city and adjoining municipalities. Questions relating to the conduct of the city market and the profits made by middlemen will be discussed by the Consumers' League at to-night's meeting.
